Gary WILLIAMS

HEAD COACH

Since returning to the College Park campus in 1989, Gary Williams has led his alma mater's basketball program into an era of national prominence. With ten straight NCAA tournament berths, seven Sweet Sixteen appearances, a pair of consecutive Final Four showings, and the 2002 national championship, Williams and his staff have literally forged a decade of dominance.

Among the coaching elite:

- Williams is one of six college basketball coaches since 1980 to guide his alma mater to the Final Four and was the first since 1974 to lead his alma mater to a national title.
- He is one of just six coaches to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in seven of the last 10 years (1994 to 2003), and one of six to boast a string of 10 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament (1994 to 2003). He joins Lute Olson and Tubby Smith as the only NCAA champion coaches on both lists.
- He is one of only three active coaches in America, and just the 12th overall to guide his alma mater to two Final Four appearances.
- A winner of nearly 70 percent of his NCAA Tournament games while at Maryland, he ranks eighth among active coaches in NCAA Tournament winning percentage overall (25-12, .676), and ninth in wins (25).
- After defeating No. 1 Duke at Comcast Center on Jan. 18, 2003, he is tied among active ACC coaches for the most wins over top-ranked teams.
- With his 500th win at NC State on March 2, 2003, the 1968 Maryland grad became the sixth ACC alumnus in conference history to amass as many as 500 coaching victories.
- With 295 wins as Maryland's head coach, Williams is on the cusp of becoming only the sixth coach in Atlantic Coast Conference history to pass the 300-victory milestone.

Maryland is one of only three schools to have appeared in each of the last 10 NCAA Tournaments, reached the Sweet Sixteen seven times since 1994, and won a national championship.

The Terps have been ranked in the AP and USA Today/ESPN Top 25 consistently since 1994-95.

The Terrapins broke every home attendance record in school history with their move to Comcast Center in 2002-03. Maryland finished fifth in the nation in home attendance, averaging 17,566 fans per game.

COMCAST CENTER

Maryland's new home for Terrapin Athletics was completed in the fall of 2002, and has already provided a season of toppled attendance records and memories on the hardwood. Comcast Center provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball, and serves as a campus site for university special events and select community events.

The Terrapins' first public basketball event was its 2002 Midnight Madness celebration, followed by exhibition and regular season openers for the men's and women's teams in November. In its first season, a school-record 281,057 fans were on hand to witness Terrapin basketball games for a per-game average of 17,566 as the Terrapins finished fifth in the nation. The unveiling of the 2002 national championship banner, a January victory over No. 1 Duke, an unforgettable February rout of No. 10 Wake Forest in blizzard-like conditions, and the honoring of one of the most successful senior classes in Terp history in March were among Comcast Center's season one highlights.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's near-700 student-athletes on 25 teams. An additional 1,500-seat gymnasium serves as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and the Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

Twenty suites provide enhanced viewing and entertainment capabilities for Maryland fans. Maryland's student seating capacity accommodates 4,000, with students ringing the first 10 rows around the floor and a majority of seats on the arena's west wall – which at an intimidating 35 degree incline provides the Terrapins' with a unique home court advantage.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share in their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors can learn about the men and women who have forged the Maryland Athletics program among the nation's elite as they stroll through the Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. The Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

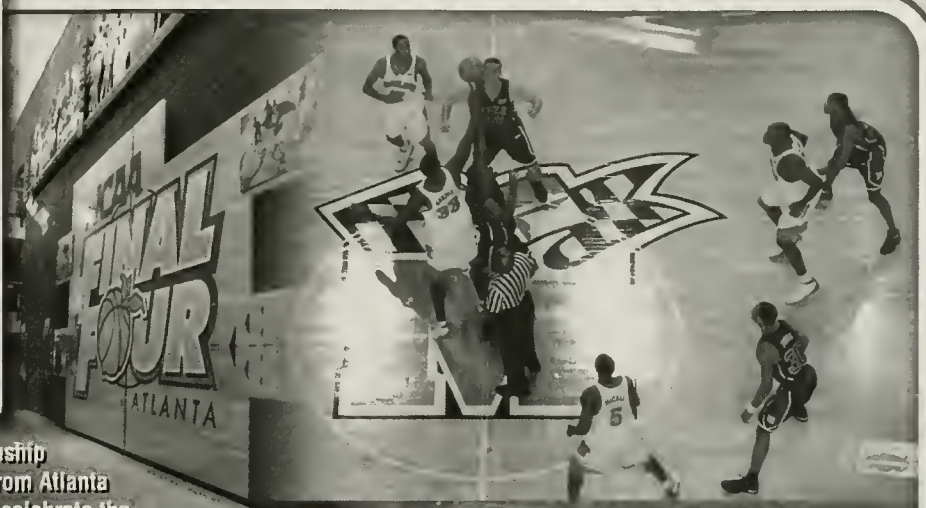
Men's and women's basketball locker rooms are decked with individual lockers, a meeting room, a team lounge, coaches locker rooms and adjoining training facilities.

The NABC/Sears National Championship Trophy and Final Four jump circle from Atlanta are displayed in Comcast Center to celebrate the Terps' 2002 national title.



On Jan. 18, 2003, No. 17 Maryland downed No. 1 Duke, 87-72, in the Terps' first slaying of a top ranked team in Comcast Center.

Spacious concourses on two levels provide ample room for comfort, including 37 restrooms and 12 concession stands.

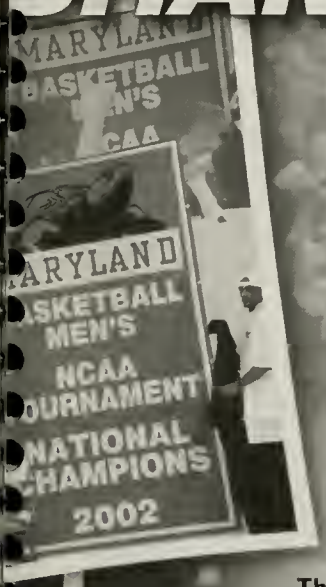
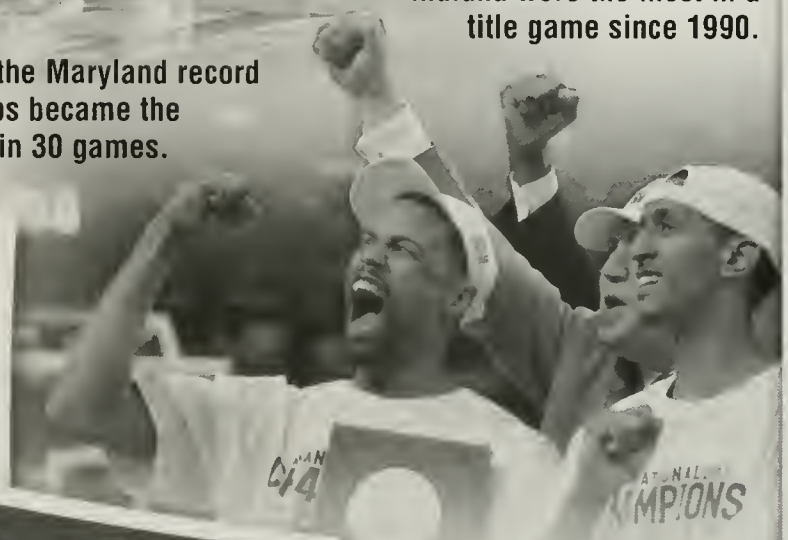
CHAMPIONS



NCAA Final Four MVP Juan Dixon had 155 points in the 2002 tourney, the ninth-highest figure in tournament history. His five steals against Indiana were the most in a title game since 1990.

The Terps' 32 victories broke the Maryland record for wins in a season. The Terps became the 15th team in ACC history to win 30 games.



Maryland's Baxter & Dixon duo is the highest-scoring tandem (4,127 points) in NCAA history to win a national championship. They are the 12th-highest scoring duo of all time.

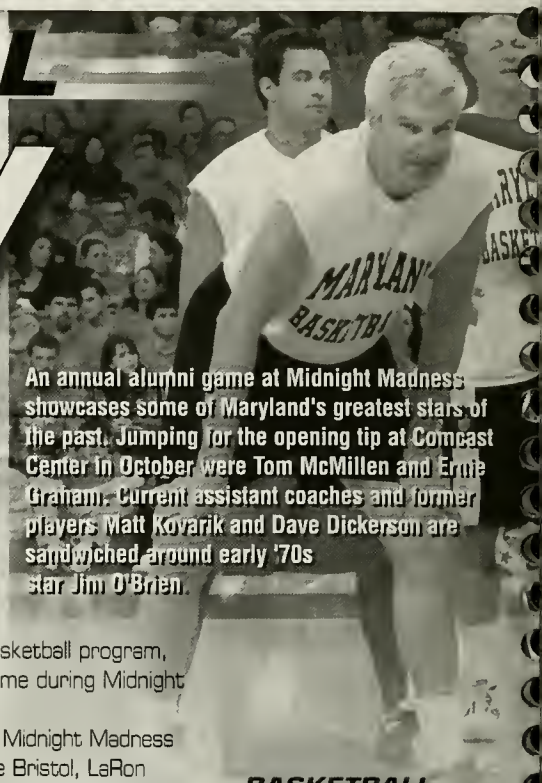
BASKETBALL family



An annual alumni game at Midnight Madness showcases some of Maryland's greatest stars of the past. Jumping for the opening tip at Comcast Center in October were Tom McMillen and Ernie Graham. Current assistant coaches and former players Matt Kovarik and Dave Dickerson are sandwiched around early '70s star Jim O'Brien.

BASKETBALL ALUMNI

Former men's basketball players are among the most devoted followers of the Maryland basketball program, and continue their involvement each year through various events including an annual alumni game during Midnight Madness festivities and an alumni golf outing with Gary Williams.

NBA SUPERSTAR STEVE FRANCIS

One of Terrapin basketball's most prominent alumni superstars in recent years, two-time NBA All-Star Steve Francis remains very close to Maryland's campus in the offseason. Francis, an All-American with the Terps in 1999 and the NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in 2000, maintains close ties with the Terrapin program and can be found in and around College Park playing pick-up, making public appearances, or in some cases, helping students in need.

Some of Maryland's students were temporarily without a home following the Sept. 24, 2001, tornado that swept through campus, but Francis was on hand to help. The Houston Rockets point guard did his part to aid in local relief efforts by offering a free meal to the near-700 students who reside in the University Courtyard apartments, which had been rendered unsafe after the disaster. Residents of the Courtyards, essentially homeless for that period, were living in hotels; on cots at the Campus Recreation Center; with family; or on floors or couches belonging to other friends and students.

Nearly 110 students got word of Francis' dinner and were in attendance at the UM Golf Course banquet facility. Francis joined the group for dinner, remarking to the group that he remembered people supporting him while he was a Maryland student and it was a small way that he could give back to those who helped him.

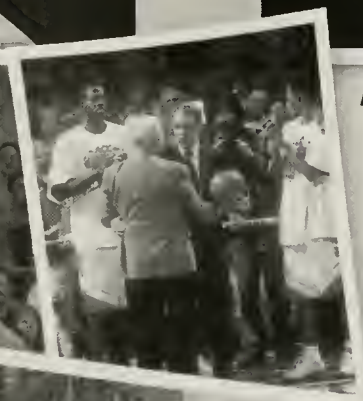
Francis continues to be an annual contributor at the Gary Williams Basketball Camp, and in 2002 returned to Cole Field House prior to the Maryland vs. Duke game to have his jersey honored.

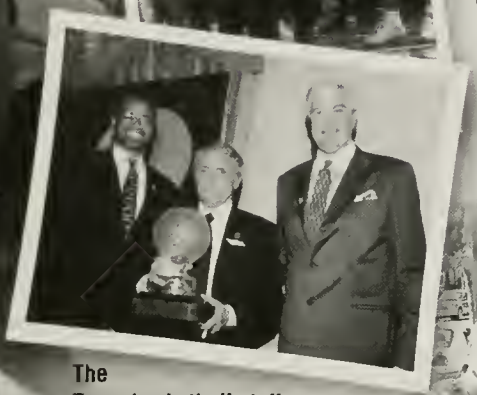
He was on campus this past summer once again, and took some time to speak with the Terps' 2003-04 squad during their afternoon workouts.

BASKETBALL TRAVEL

The Maryland basketball team flies charter airplanes to nearly every game on its schedule. Pictured is a 50-passenger aircraft which transports the Terps from city to city throughout the season. This regional jet features two-by-two seating with no middle seats, and is the quietest flying jet in the world. It can cruise at 530 mph and up to 41,000 feet

Charter flights make getting to, and coming back from, any destination easy and comfortable. This type of travel allows the Terps to be on campus and in class as soon as possible following road games, and overnight stays are minimized. The convenience and comfort of charter airplane travel allows for convenient, efficient, frequent service as well as maximized practice and study time.





The Terps basketball staff and former Maryland All-Americans Len Elmore and Tom McMillen helped celebrate Gary Williams' acceptance of the Winged Foot Award as presented by the New York Athletic Club in May 2002.

PAST AND PRESENT

Alums and longtime friends of the program are often found coming back to the university, whether for games or celebrations, or for the annual summer golf outings hosted by Gary Williams and his staff. A Terrapin alum himself, Williams has frequently welcomed former teammates and coaches. Among the notable participants at the 2002 and 2003 alumni events were former All-Americans Gene Shue, Tom McMillen and Len Elmore; former Maryland player and coach Billy Hahn; former Williams teammate and coaching partner Joe Harrington; and former Williams coach Bud Millikan.

The Gary Williams Invitational and an annual alumni golf outing are yearly events that unite alumni and members of the basketball family.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Head coach Gary Williams and the Maryland players are active members of the University of Maryland campus and greater College Park communities. Williams' community service in the summer of 2003 alone has benefited groups such as Coaches Vs. Cancer, National Autism Research, the National Physical Education Council, Washington D.C.'s youth and The Salvation Army.

In the fall of 2003, Williams joined Maryland Governor Robert Ehrlich and Maryland First Lady Kendel Ehrlich in the fight against underage drinking. Williams and the Ehrlichs taped a public service announcement at Comcast Center to spread the word about this worthwhile cause.

COMMITMENT TO EDUCATION

The 2003 Lindy's preseason annual listed Maryland as the ACC's top-ranked school in terms of incoming freshman SAT scores over the past several years. Former Terps Calvin McCall, Keith Booth, Laron Profit and Terrell Stokes are all among recent men's basketball players to earn degrees from the University of Maryland.

In addition to McCall, three Terps from the 2003 senior class were within two semesters of graduation before attending NBA preseason camps, and two Terps from the class of 2002 were on track as well. A third, Earl Badu, was accepted to law school. Juan Dixon, Byron Mouton and Steve Francis are all Terps who recently returned to campus during their professional offseasons to continue work on their degrees.

Two of three Maryland seniors walked through graduation ceremonies in May 2001, and the third, Terence Morris, was on track to graduate after being drafted in the second round of the NBA draft.

Maryland student-athletes all work toward completion of their college degrees with the assistance of academic counselor Hajj Turner and the Academic Support and Career Development Unit.

GAMEDAY!

Maryland basketball games have become a loud and boisterous experience with capacity crowds since Gary Williams took over as head coach for the 1989-90 season. The Terrapins boast one of the most active and enthusiastic crowds in the country, which has helped carry the Maryland program to two Final Four appearances, the 2002 national championship and record-breaking attendance totals in 2003 with the opening of Comcast Center.

✶ Maryland has ranked in the Top 20 among national attendance leaders for six straight seasons, finishing at an all-time best fifth in the nation in 2002-03. In Maryland's inaugural season at Comcast Center, the Terps played to 98 percent capacity, as 281,057 fans attended games for an average of 17,566.

✶ After averaging 13,377 fans and ranking 20th in the country in 1998, the Terps set a then-school record with a 14,474 average in 1999 while ranking 15th nationally. In 2002, Cole Field House's final season, Maryland continued to draw capacity numbers by averaging 14,166 fans and ranking 17th. The Terps drew 14,058 fans and ranked 18th in 2001. Those totals were only eclipsed by the Terps' move to Comcast Center, which ranks as the second-largest on-campus arena in the ACC.

✶ For the past four seasons, the Terps have set school records and ranked in the top 10 nationally in overall attendance, home and away. Maryland has eclipsed its own overall record in four straight seasons, and played before at least 400,000 fans in five consecutive seasons.

✶ Maryland's school-record home attendance average in 2003 included 15 of 16 regular season home games played before crowds that exceeded 17,000. Maryland played to 98 percent capacity for the entire season in the $125 million, 17,950-seat Comcast Center.

✶ Maryland has combined to play at over 95 percent capacity at home since the 1993-94 season.

✶ Over 2.07 million people have watched men's basketball in College Park over the last 10 seasons (14,206 average in 146 games) as the Terps have forged one of the most consistent and animated home crowds in the nation. The Terps own a 128-18 home record (87.7 winning percentage) in the last 10 seasons with perfect marks in 2002 (15-0) and 1995 (16-0).

✶ During Gary Williams' tenure as head coach, the Terps have achieved double-digit home victories in 13 out of 14 seasons.

SEASON Outlook

When the lights went down on October 17 at the 2003 Midnight Madness celebration, a new era of Maryland basketball officially began as the next generation of Terrapins took the floor.

Over the last 14 seasons, head coach Gary Williams has worked to resurrect the basketball program at his alma mater and restore it to a position among the nation's elite. By the 1993-94 postseason, it became evident that Williams' labors were beginning to bear fruit, as the Terrapins earned what would be the first of 10 straight invitations to the NCAA Tournament. The ensuing decade of dominance would include eight 20-win seasons, 10 finishes in the upper-echelon of the always-competitive Atlantic Coast Conference, seven trips to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen, a pair of Final Four showings in 2001 and 2002, and the program's first-ever national championship.

How difficult is it to achieve such success? During the Terrapins' 10-year run to the apex of college basketball, only two schools other than Maryland have appeared in each of 10 NCAA Tournaments, captured a national title and reached the Sweet Sixteen as many times. Consider the fact that Williams and the Terrapin program had to overcome inherited NCAA sanctions in their earliest seasons to achieve such triumphs, and it becomes evident what a storybook journey the previous decade has been for every Maryland player, alumnus and fan.

A season ago, only one year removed from Maryland's ultimate victory on that Monday night in Atlanta, Williams guided an experienced but mostly unproven squad to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen. Having to face all of the pressures and challenges of defending a NCAA title'- having to take every team's best shot every time they took the floor - the Terrapins followed their 2002 national championship with a seventh-straight 20-win season and their fourth Top 10 final ranking in the last five years.

Now, as the new season begins and the new era dawns, the Terrapins welcome an incoming class of five highly acclaimed newcomers to join what was a sensational group of rookies a year ago and a pair of juniors whose three years of experience includes the 2002 championship run. Senior Jamar Smith, coming off a solid junior-transfer campaign, along with hard-working juniors Andre Collins and Mike Grinnon, represent the lone upperclassmen on a young team full of limitless potential. Developing and meshing the 2003-04 crop of Terp rookies with the existing talented core of players will be the latest challenge for Williams and his coaching staff.

"This is our youngest team in probably four or five years, but that doesn't mean it can't be a good team. We have talented people and freshmen and sophomores who are ready to play," said Williams. "I think a lot will depend on how hard we are willing to work from the first day of practice right through until the end of the season. This team has a chance to improve greatly from the middle of October to January 1. We could be a really different team in terms of our ability by then."

The Terrapins' 2003-04 recruiting class, a consensus Top 10 group that has been rated as high as No. 2 in the nation, brings five fresh faces to a team that is set to continue the winning tradition that has been established in College Park. The standard has been set, and an excitement is building in Comcast Center that can only be associated with a new-look squad full of unlimited potential and possibilities.

One decade of dominance has come to commencement; it is time for another to begin.

BREAKDOWN: Guard

With players like Juan Dixon, Drew Nicholas and Steve Blake filling the guard positions for the past several seasons, the Maryland backcourt has been among the most talented and triumphant in college basketball. The Terrapins will certainly have a different look at the guard spots for 2003-04, but the development of the younger players at these positions could ensure success for this year and seasons to come.

Replacing a four-year starter like Blake will be a definite challenge, but it is one that sophomore John Gilchrist can handle. A tough, physical athlete at the point, Gilchrist was able to showcase his playmaking abilities and his flair for competition as Blake's primary backup last season. As a freshman, Gilchrist was third on the team in assists only to Blake and Nicholas, shot at a .588 clip from the floor, and seemed to excel in the most pressure-packed situations.

"John was probably as good as any freshman guard in the ACC last year," said Williams. "He gave us some very valuable minutes, and with his strength and determination, he is a very effective point guard."

Andre Collins, whose three years in the Maryland program put him among the most experienced players on the team, came on strong at the end of last season and played valuable minutes during conference play and in the NCAA Tournament. He will be a major factor at the point as well.

Depth will be one of Maryland's stronger assets in the upcoming season, and nowhere are the Terps deeper than at shooting guard. Sophomore Chris McCray, a natural shooter with the potential to be a big-time scorer, will certainly see significant minutes. McCray played in 24 games as a freshman and averaged 3.1 points per game.

Freshmen Mike Jones and D.J. Strawberry stand to play major roles at the two-guard spot as well. Jones, a McDonald's and Parade All-American, has been rated as high as the No. 2 shooting-guard prospect in the country only behind NBA No. 1 draft pick LeBron James. Jones' elite combination of athleticism with a shooter's touch and stalwart work ethic should make the rookie an immediate contributor.

Said Williams, "Mike, strength-wise, is ready to play college basketball. He is very quick, very powerful off the floor and he is an outstanding 3-point shooter."

Strawberry, an outstanding defender and passer from the nationally renowned Mater Dei High School program in Santa Ana, Calif., possesses the versatility, athleticism and intangibles to contribute immediately for the Terps.

BREAKDOWN: Small Forward

Last season's questions about the position of small forward were answered by the emergence of senior Calvin McCall and freshman Nik Caner-Medley. Caner-Medley started 18 games as a freshman, becoming the first rookie to make a regular appearance in the Terps' starting lineup since Blake in 1999. The 6-foot-8 sophomore from Portland, Maine, averaged 5.9 points per game as a freshman and is fully recovered from an ankle injury suffered in the Terps' Sweet Sixteen game against Michigan State.

"Nik had a very good freshman year," said Williams. "He started quite a few games and showed great potential. We're looking forward for Nik to have an outstanding sophomore year."

Junior Mike Grinnon, who came to Maryland as a pure shooter three years ago, has continued to develop his game and put in a tremendous effort in the weight room this offseason. The 6-foot-6 Grinnon has bulked up to an impressive 211 pounds and will work for playing time at small forward.

BREAKDOWN: Power Forward/Center

The Terrapins have boasted one of the deepest and strongest frontcourts in the nation during their recent era of success, and look to continue that trend with the addition of three newcomers to a pair of emerging second-year talents in Smith and Travis Garrison.

As the only senior on the squad, Smith will be counted on to not only provide impressive numbers at the power forward and center positions, but upperclassman leadership as well. Smith averaged 5.9 points per game and 3.9 rebounds in 2002-03 after transferring to Maryland from Allegany Community College.

"I thought Jamar had a good year his transfer year from junior college," commented Williams.""Now he has to step up to be a leader as a senior, and continue to improve his game."

Garrison, a sophomore, will be counted upon to log important minutes in the post as well. The powerful but soft-shooting Garrison has worked diligently on improving his inside game during the summer months after averaging 4.0 points per game as a freshman and finishing the season as one of the ACC's premier rookie shot-blockers.

Junior walk-on Darien Henry will continue to help the Terrapins in practice and vie for playing time. His stalwart work ethic earned him minutes in nine of the Terps' contests in 2002-03, and he made the most of his time, scoring in 56 percent of his games played.

The Terrapins have a rare combination of size and athleticism in each of their highly-regarded freshman post players: Ekene Ibekwe, Hassan Fofana and Will Bowers. These players give Williams the coveted depth in the post position that Maryland has relied upon for success.

Ibekwe, a Top 10 prospect at power forward, is a long, lean, dynamic athlete who can hit from the outside, slash to the basket or score from the post. The Parade All-American is an outstanding finisher and shot-blocker as well.

"Ekene is a 6-9 player who is very quick and is an outstanding outside shooter with a very good inside game," said Williams. "It is going to be interesting to watch Ekene compete and see where he fits in this year, because he has outstanding talent."

A 6-10, 290 pound forward/center, Fofana provides an imposing paint presence for the Terps with surprisingly quick feet for a player his size. Born in Guinea on the West Coast of Africa, Fofana was a youth soccer player before coming to the U.S. for high school and prep school. The Top 10 center played last season at Hargrave Military Academy, as teammate Andre Collins and former Terrapin Lonny Baxter had before.

The Schedule

The Maryland men's basketball team opens what will be a competitive schedule for its youthful squad when the American University Eagles visit Comcast Center on Saturday, Nov. 22. Maryland's matchup with the local team is included among 18 events at the $125-million, state-of-the-art Comcast Center, now in its second season as the home of the Terrapins.

Also for the second-straight season, each of Maryland's exhibition and regular-season games are scheduled to be aired on live television, with at least 14 contests to be aired nationally.

"I think we play a competitive schedule, and our early schedule will help us prepare for the ACC regular season," said Williams. "It will be interesting to see how our younger players accept the challenge of playing this level of competition."

After contests against 2001 NCAA opponent George Mason and Hofstra in the midst of a four-game homestand to open the season, the Terps begin a challenging non-conference stretch with two-time defending regular-season Big Ten champion Wisconsin as part of the ACC/Big Ten Challenge (Dec. 2, ESPN2). The Terrapins take on the Badgers, who are tabbed as high as No. 5 in one preseason ranking, for the third time in four seasons.

Maryland faces preseason Top-15 team Gonzaga in the first round of the 2003 BB&T Classic, meeting the Bulldogs on Saturday, Dec. 6 at MCI Center in Washington, D.C. West Virginia joins the Terps, Bulldogs and George Washington Colonials in the eighth annual event. The consolation and championship games are scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 7.

The Terps make their first official road trip of the season when they meet preseason Top-15 squad Florida at the Gators' O'Connell Center (Dec. 10, ESPN). It will mark Maryland's first ever trip to Gainesville after a hotly-contested matchup in College Park last season.

Maryland returns home for pre-Christmas tilts with Pepperdine (Dec. 14) and UNC Greensboro (Dec. 23) before beginning its Atlantic Coast Conference slate with a trip to Tallahassee to meet Florida State. The Terrapins face the Seminoles on Dec. 28 in a nationally televised game on FOX Sports Net.

The Terps then return to College Park for a three-game homestand, beginning with in-state squads Mount St. Mary's (Jan. 3) and Maryland-Eastern Shore (Jan. 6) before resuming their ACC schedule with North Carolina, Jan. 14 on ESPN.

In all, the Terrapins play 15 games against teams that participated in postseason tournaments a year ago (NCAA- Wisconsin, Gonzaga, Florida, Duke, Wake Forest and NC State; NIT - North Carolina, Georgia Tech and Virginia). Additionally, Maryland plays seven games against teams ranked in preseason Top 25 polls including preseason Top-5 Duke (Jan. 21, Comcast Center, ESPN; Feb. 22, Cameron Indoor Stadium, CBS).

Maryland's final regular-season game of the year will be played against regional-rival Virginia in a FOX Sports Net Sunday night national telecast on March 7 at Comcast Center.

A New Season

As the 2003-04 season begins, new challenges will be overcome and struggles will be met every day. The Terrapins will not be rebuilding, but reloading for success.

"For me personally, it's a great challenge - a different challenge than it has been for the past few years," said Williams. "In the last few years, we have had to prove that we were as good as people thought we should be, and that is a great deal of pressure. I like this kind of pressure where we are just trying to see how good we can be. If we're all willing to go into this with the idea that we are going to become a good basketball team this year, I believe we will be. I don't believe in rebuilding years, I believe in trying to see how good you can be each year, and that is what is important."

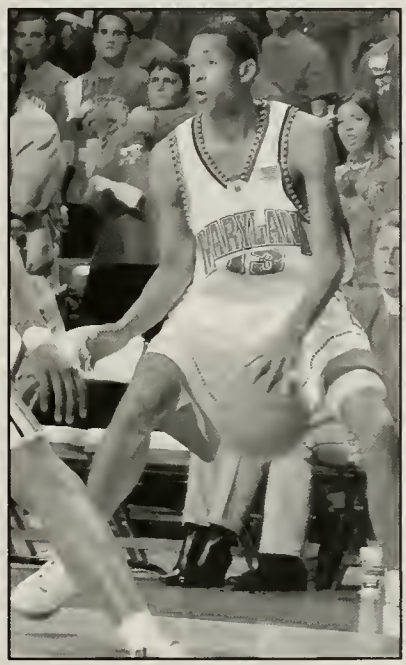
PRESEASON Notebook

Young Guns

With one senior, three juniors and a combined nine freshmen and sophomores, the 2003-04 Terrapins will bring the youngest team to the court since the 1993-94 season, when Maryland's roster included no seniors, three juniors, four sophomores and a five-member freshman class that included Joe Smith, Keith Booth and current Terp assistant coach Matt Kovarik. That team posted a 18-12 record and advanced to the Sweet Sixteen to begin Maryland's current streak of 10-straight NCAA Tournament appearances, with freshmen Smith and Booth, and sophomores Exree Hipp, Johnny Rhodes and Duane Simpkins starting 29 of 30 games.



Sophomore Chris McCray

The youngest Terrapin starting lineup in recent years includes the Terps' 1999-00 squad that posted a 25-10 record and advanced to the Second Round of the 2000 NCAA Tournament. Freshman Steve Blake, sophomores Juan Dixon, Lonny Baxter and Danny Miller, and junior Terence Morris comprised the Terps' starting lineup in 31 games that season.

National Prominence

The young Terrapins will look to continue a school-record by earning a berth in the 2004 NCAA Tournament. Maryland is currently riding a streak of 10 straight NCAA appearances since 1994, including seven trips to the Sweet Sixteen during that time span, Final Four appearances in 2001 and 2002, and the 2002 national title. Only two schools other than Maryland can claim such success.

The Terrapins, ranked No. 10 in the final USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll of 2003, have finished four of the last five seasons with a national Top 10 ranking.

Leading The ACC

Maryland's 2003-04 squad looks to continue a school record by once again finishing in the upper-echelon of the ACC. Last season the Terps set a school-record by posting a sixth-straight finish of third place or higher. Maryland finished in the ACC's Top 3 in five straight seasons from 1972-76 (and 1998-02), which stood as the previous record. Including the 2002-03 season, the Terrapins have finished at least second in the ACC regular season four times in the past five years, including The Terps' second-ever first place finish in 2001-02.

ACC Victories

Maryland has won 30 of 36 (.833) ACC regular-season games over the last three seasons, including a second place 11-5 mark in 2002-03 and a 15-1 ACC regular-season championship in 2002. That stretch includes a Terrapin-record 14-game win streak over ACC regular-season opponents, and 14-straight ACC victories on Maryland's home floor.

20-Win Seasons

The Terrapins will look to extend an active school-record streak of 20-win seasons to eight in 2003-04. The Terps have established a streak of seven 20-win seasons since 1997, a further testament to the Terps' successful consistency under Gary Williams. Maryland broke a five-season string of 20-win seasons in 2001-02 with its sixth-straight season of as many victories. The Terps had won at least 20 games from 1971-72 to 1975-76.

Year	Record	NCAA Appearance
1996-97	21-11	NCAA First Round
1997-98	21-11	NCAA Sweet 16
1998-99	28-6	NCAA Sweet 16
1999-00	25-10	NCAA Second Round
2000-01	25-11	NCAA Final Four
2001-02	32-4	National Champions
2002-03	21-10	NCAA Sweet Sixteen

Terps On TV

For the second consecutive season and the second time in school history, all of Maryland's 29 preseason and regular-season games are scheduled to be aired on live television. The Terps' 2003-04 broadcast slate includes 14 games that will be broadcast nationally, on ESPN, ESPN2, Fox Sports Net, ABC or CBS. With the exception of the snow-delayed victory over Wake Forest last February 17, every preseason and regular season game of the Terps' 2002-03 season was aired live, and the Terps' Feb. 19 tilt at Duke ranked as ESPN's top-rated college basketball telecast of all of last year.

Coach Gary Williams with Maryland alumnus Bonnie Bernstein.

PRESEASON Honors

Maryland may have lost five seniors from its Sweet Sixteen squad a season ago, but the young Terrapins of 2003-04 are already turning heads on the national scene, having been cited by several preseason publications as a team to watch. The Terps' talent and potential for success is widely recognized by the national media, as evidenced by the recognition Maryland's players and coaching staff have earned before the team has even taken the court.

What They're Saying About Terrapin Basketball...

"If not much is expected from Maryland, that's a good reason to fear Gary Williams' squad. The key players from the 2002 national title team are gone, but this edition will be athletic and should play with energy. You may not be familiar with all of their names, but John Gilchrist, Nik Caner-Medley, Travis Garrison and Mike Jones, to name a few, will end this season the same way Steve Blake, Drew Nicholas and Tahj Holden had grown accustomed to - in the NCAA Tournament."

– The Sporting News

"Never count out a Gary Williams team."

– Athlon Sports

"The bottom line with [the Terps] is don't be fooled by thinking they're just going to slip just because they lost Steve Blake, Drew Nicholas and a couple of other guys. I think people are going to be tempted into saying they aren't to be as good, but don't go there."

– ACC Basketball Handbook

"Maryland is talented but quite young. If I know Gary Williams, though, there won't be any rebuilding. He expects his team to get after it and Maryland should be in the thick of things in a tough ACC."

– ESPN's Dick Vitale

"The Terps introduce a huge, talented freshman class ... don't bet against Gary Williams."

– Lindy's

– Street & Smith's

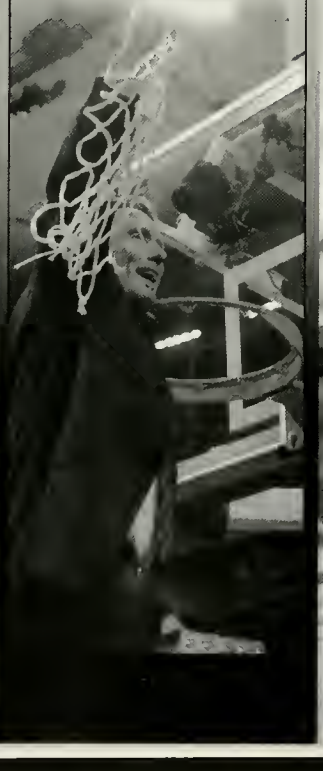
Head Coach

- Maryland '68
- 15th Year at Maryland
- Maryland Record: (295-153, .658)
- 26th Year Overall
- Career Record: (502-281, .641)



Since returning to the College Park campus in 1989, Gary Williams (Maryland '68) has led his alma mater's basketball program from a period of troubled times to an era of national prominence. With 10 straight NCAA Tournament berths, seven Sweet Sixteen appearances, a pair of consecutive Final Four showings, and the 2002 national championship - the first of its kind in Maryland basketball history - Williams and his staff have literally forged a decade of dominance.

A season ago, Williams took a group of experienced but mostly untested Terps to a third-straight Sweet Sixteen. Along the way, the squad earned its fourth final Top-10 ranking in the past five seasons, extended an active school-record streak of 20-win seasons to seven, recorded a school-record sixth straight finish in the upper echelon of the ACC by capturing second place, and posted a school-record sixth straight season of double-digit ACC victories. The Terrapins helped Williams to his 500th career coaching victory on March 2 - making him only the sixth ACC alumnus to win as many games. With an overall record of 502-281, he is the 17th-winningest active coach in the nation.

Williams, heralded as the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year during the Terps' 2002 championship run, is one of just 10 active coaches in America to boast a national title. He has become the sixth-winningest coach in ACC history after transforming the Maryland program into one of the nation's most formidable, and building a Baltimore-D.C. area following that has consistently resulted in packed arenas. After demolishing attendance records with sellout crowds during the final years of Maryland basketball at Cole Field House, Williams' Terps set a new mark in the inaugural season at Comcast Center. The Terrapins played in front of 281,057 fans in the opening season at their new home, averaging 17,566 fans per game and playing to 97.8 percent capacity.

– Williams is one of six college basketball coaches since 1980 to guide his alma mater to the Final Four and was the first since 1974 to lead his alma mater to a national title.

– He is one of just six coaches to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in seven of the last 10 years (1994 to 2003), and one of six to boast a string of 10 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament (1994 to 2003). He joins Lute Olson and Tubby Smith as the only NCAA champion coaches on both lists.

– He is one of only three active coaches in America, and just the 12th overall to guide his alma mater to two Final Four appearances. He was only the eighth to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Fours and the first since Houston's Guy Lewis in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

– A winner of 70 percent of his NCAA Tournament games while at Maryland, he ranks eighth among active coaches in NCAA Tournament winning percentage overall (25-12, .676), and ninth in wins (25).

– After defeating No. 1 Duke at Comcast Center on Jan. 18, 2003, he is tied among active ACC coaches for the most wins over top-ranked teams.

– With his 500th win at NC State on March 2, 2003, the 1968 Maryland grad became the sixth ACC alumnus in conference history to amass as many as 500 coaching victories.

– With 295 wins as Maryland's head coach, Williams is on the cusp of becoming only the sixth coach in Atlantic Coast Conference history to pass the 300-victory milestone.

National Prominence

For Williams, now in his 15th season, the accomplishments of the past 10 years have been particularly sweet for a coach whose roots with the program extend to his playing days in the late 1960s, and whose earliest seasons as head coach were tormented by NCAA sanctions he inherited. The Final Four architect is himself a Maryland alumnus, who found glory for a program whose history is filled with a myriad of some of the most prominent names in college basketball annals: Shue, Lucas, Elmore, McMillen, Albert King, Bias, Buck Williams and Walt Williams. He followed a 2001 Final Four season with the most wins in Maryland history, going 32-4 in 2002. He engineered the school's best regular season ever (25-3), its first outright ACC regular season title since 1980, its first No. 1 seed in an NCAA Tournament, and a return to the Final Four. He earned billing as the league's coach of the year for the first time in his career and later was honored with various national awards, the Victor Award and the New York Athletic Club's Winged Foot Award as the coach of the national champions.

Capping his personal ascent to college basketball's highest pinnacle, Williams added author to his resume in summer 2002 by completing an autobiography entitled Sweet Redemption, with award-winning journalist David Vise. The book captures the essence of Williams' arrival at Maryland, the Terps' rebuilding efforts, their return to the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and their tournament climb ever since.

The rise of the Maryland program has run parallel with Williams' ascent among the most notable in the collegiate coaching fraternity. Williams is one of only six coaches to boast a string of 10 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament, and one of six to reach the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen in seven of the last 10 years. He joins Lute Olson and Tubby Smith as the only NCAA champion coaches during that time period.

As the Maryland head coach, Williams has produced more than 20 wins in eight of his last nine seasons, and a school-record seven straight. Williams' 14 career 20-win seasons ties him for 12th among active coaches.

Williams, 295-153 at Maryland, boasts a 502-281 overall record, including four years at American (1979-82), four at Boston College (1983-86) and three at Ohio State (1987-89). In 25 seasons as a Division I head coach, Williams has coached in 13 NCAA Tournaments and guided nine different teams to the NCAA Sweet 16. One of 26 coaches ever to take three different schools to the NCAA Tournament, Williams has guided teams to the NIT or NCAA Tournament at each of his four coaching stops.

He is the only coach in America to direct programs in each of the ACC, Big Ten and Big East conferences. During Williams' combined 20 years in those three conferences, the national champion has come from his league eight times (ACC - 5 of 14; Big East - 2 of 4; Big Ten - 1 of 3).

During his run of 10 straight NCAA Tournaments at Maryland, he has forged his way to becoming the winningest NCAA Tournament coach in Maryland history with 21 wins and nine losses - a 70 percent mark. He boasts a 25-12 NCAA Tournament record overall, and has carried Maryland to the Sweet Sixteen in five of the past six years.

Terp Alumnus

Williams is one of four 500-win coaches who now engineer the programs at their respective alma maters (Lou Henson, New Mexico State; Eddie Sutton, Oklahoma State; Jim Boeheim, Syracuse). They also are the only active coaches to direct their alma maters to at least one Final Four appearance, with Williams and Boeheim making multiple showings with their alma maters.

In 2001, Williams became just the sixth coach since 1980 to direct his alma mater to the Final Four. A year later, he became the first coach since 1974 to guide his alma mater to a national title. Williams is the only active coach to take his alma mater to consecutive Final Four appearances. He is only the eighth to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Fours and the first since Houston's Guy Lewis in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

A former Terrapin point guard, Williams was a starter under coach Bud Millikan during the 1965, 1966 and 1967 seasons. He was the team captain as a senior and still lists one of his most memorable basketball moments as his experience as a spectator at the 1966 national championship game conducted at Maryland's legendary Cole Field House, between Texas Western and Kentucky.

The former student-athlete is also noted as one of just eight former ACC basketball players ever to return to the league as a head coach. On March 2, 2003, Williams became the sixth ACC alum to win at least 500 games as senior Drew Nicholas nailed a buzzer-beating 3-pointer to down NC State, 68-65. With 295 wins as Maryland's head coach, Williams is only five victories shy of becoming the sixth ACC coach to reach the 300-mile-stone. With 125 career ACC victories as Maryland's coach, he needs only 10 ACC wins to surpass Georgia Tech's Bobby Cremins (1981-2000) as the fourth-winningest ACC coach in terms of conference victories.

Williams Era

Inducted into the University of Maryland Hall of Fame in 1999, Williams has placed his alma mater's program back among the elite in the always-competitive Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terps have become synonymous with Duke and North Carolina among the league's most dominant programs, and nationally have become a fixture among weekly polls - 67 consecutive weeks in the USA Today/ESPN Top 25 at the conclusion of the 2002-03 season and 73 consecutive appearances in the AP Top 25.

Another success story during the Williams Era at Maryland was the coveted home court win streak over non-conference foes, which spanned more than 12 years and 87 games. Maryland had not lost a non-league home game under Williams since just his fourth home game as head coach: Dec. 12, 1989 vs. Coppin State. The Terps went undefeated against non-conference foes during the final 12 years of competition at Cole Field House, and ran the record to 87 games before a five-point loss to No. 14 Florida on Dec. 14, 2002, at Comcast Center.

The decade of the 1990s was certainly a decade of resurgence for the Maryland basketball team.

Since Williams' arrival as head coach in the summer of 1989, the Terps have soared to a level of national prominence unmatched during the first century of the program - and unmatched by the vast majority of programs nationwide. Included among the many superior accomplishments during the Williams Era are: a school-record 10 straight NCAA Tournament appearances (1994-03) which include consecutive trips to the Final Four, a national crown and seven Sweet Sixteen appearances; 10 consecutive upper division finishes in the ACC including runner-up distinction in 1999, 2000 and 2003; an outright regular season ACC title in 2002 and a shared one in 1995; a school-record 28 victories during the 1999 season which was shattered again with 32 in 2002; four NBA lottery picks, one national Player of the Year, a senior of the year and two ACC Players of the Year; and the first recipient of the nation's Senior CLASS Award.

Added for good measure are a NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in Steve Francis (2000), and a preseason top-five ranking three times in four seasons (1999-2002). The result is a program and a coach who have reached icon status.

Williams is the only head coach in school history to guide the Terps to 10 postseason tournament appearances. After guiding his first two Maryland teams to winning records and overcoming an NCAA probationary period resulting from the previous regime, he guided the Terps to an NCAA Tournament appearance in just his fifth season, 1994, and earned a share of the ACC regular season title in just his sixth, 1995.

Williams' past 10 seasons have brought Maryland from contention in the Atlantic Coast Conference to contention for a national championship – including seven Sweet Sixteen appearances, two Final Fours and of course, the 2002 NCAA title.

The 2002 championship was a product of maturity and steadfast dedication to a common goal – and included a magical ride through the final season of play at venerable Cole Field House. Williams molded a cast of seven returning players from its national semifinalists of 2001, while senior captains Lonny Baxter, Juan Dixon and Byron Mouton keyed a consistent effort from the beginning of practice in October, through an undefeated (15-0) home campaign at Cole, all the way to a net-cutting evening at the Georgia Dome on April 1. The Terrapins overcame personal obstacles and handled the ACC's and the NCAA Tournament's stiffest challenges. After winning the ACC regular-season crown with a 15-1 record, the Terps' ascent to the national championship game included successive victories over perennial powers Wisconsin, Kentucky, Connecticut and Kansas - and a 64-52 defeat of Indiana in the title game. Maryland won the first national title in school history, and earned its very first No. 1 ranking, after becoming the first team in NCAA history to reach the championship game by defeating the highest possible seed in every round.

A year earlier, the Terrapins began the season with a lofty No. 5 ranking by the Associated Press and finished with the No. 4 spot by USA Today/ESPN. The Terps butted heads weekly during an ACC schedule that included five nationally ranked teams, but found their stride late in the year to win 10 of their last 12 games. Of those 10, a record seven nationally ranked foes fell in the Terps' path to the Final Four, with their only losses coming to eventual NCAA and ACC champion Duke. Local rival Georgetown was dispatched in the Sweet Sixteen, and an 87-73 win over No. 2-ranked and top-seeded Stanford earned Maryland its first NCAA regional title.

The 2000 season may have been one of Williams' greatest coaching accomplishments ever – guiding a "rebuilding" Terrapin team to 25 wins, a second straight second-place finish in the ACC and its first trip to the conference tournament final since 1984. All with a freshman point guard (Steve Blake), three first-year starters (Baxter, Blake, Dixon) and only one senior following the loss of three players to the NBA draft. Two years later, those three first-year starters would become seasoned veterans and national champions.

Four years after tying for his first ACC regular-season championship in 1995, Williams led Maryland to a then school-record 28 victories and a school-record 13 ACC victories during the 1999 season. The Terps finished the season ranked No. 5 by the Associated Press - then the highest final ranking since 1975 and only the third time in school history that the program had earned a top-five final national ranking. Maryland peaked at No. 2 as it won its first 10 games of the season, and its No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament matched the highest tournament seed in school history.

Williams has been voted as a national coach of the year finalist five times, including his selection in 2002 as the national coach of the year by Basketball America and CBSSportsline.com, and in 2001 by Playboy. Besides the ACC coaching honor, other accolades after the 2002 championship season included the Winged Foot Award as presented by the N.Y. Athletic Club; the Victor Award as presented by the National Academy of Sports Editors; the Harry Litwack Award as Eastern Coach of the Year, presented annually by the Herb Good Club of Philadelphia; and Seaboard Region Coach of the Year honors as named by Basketball Times and Eastern Basketball. In 1998, ACC Athlete Magazine voted him as the ACC Coach of the Year. He received the same honor from College Hoops Illustrated in 2000. Following Maryland's 1997 season, when the Terps advanced to the NCAA Tournament and finished with a 9-7 record in the ACC, he was named as the Seaboard Region Coach of the Year by Basketball Times and Eastern Basketball. He was honored as the district coach of the year in 1981, and in 1983 he was named as the Eastern Coach of the Year.

Williams has cemented his legacy as one of America's greatest recruiters and college coaches – a statement backed not just by consecutive Final Four appearances or 21 winning records in 25 seasons, but by 28 NBA Draft choices and the numerous former assistant coaches who now guide their own programs. Williams has mentored seven first-round selections and six NBA lottery picks: Walt Williams (#7 pick, 1992), Joe Smith (#1, 1995), Steve Francis (#2, 1999) and Chris Wilcox (#8, 2002); and Ohio State standouts Jim Jackson (#5, 1992) and Dennis Hopson (#3, 1987).

Williams was hired on June 13, 1989. He inherited a team that had won only nine games the year before and finished in last place in the ACC. Displaying his coaching abilities immediately, he helped the Terps to 19 wins while advancing to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament – and making him the first coach in school history to lead a team into the postseason in his first year. In addition, Maryland's 10-game improvement in the win column during Williams' first season was the largest in school history and second-largest in the annals of the ACC by a first-year coach. Only the legendary Press Maravich, who improved NC State's winning ledger by 13 games in his inaugural season (1965), can boast a higher first-year improvement in the win column.

A 1968 graduate of Maryland, Williams lettered as the Terps' starting point guard from 1965-67 under head coach Bud Millikan, serving as team captain during his senior season. It was as a player in the ACC that Williams began developing his basketball philosophy. Playing beside three-year teammates Joe Harrington and Jay McMillen, he studied the game under Millikan, and it was then that he developed his penchant for the full-court pressure defenses for which his teams are now known. He learned his halfcourt man-to-man defense from Millikan, who learned from the legendary Hank Iba. The fast-breaking offense that Williams' teams employ is similar to the style Vic Bubas' Duke teams used when Williams was a player.

Path Back To College Park

Williams began his coaching career alongside Harrington as graduate students at Maryland under freshman coach Tom Davis. The 1969 freshman team finished with a 12-4 record, as Williams bonded with Davis in a relationship that would serve him well as his coaching career progressed.

After earning a degree in business, he continued his coaching career as an assistant at Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, N.J. After one year, he took over as the head coach and guided his first team to a perfect 27-0 record and the state title. Williams has called that season "the ultimate – there wasn't another game to win." Upon winning the NCAA West Region championship in 2001, he fondly recalled his championship at Camden as the "only other time I've ever got to cut down a net."

Williams spent one more year at Wilson before accepting an invitation from Davis in 1972 to become an assistant at Lafayette College. While an assistant at Lafayette, Williams also served as the head soccer coach. In 1978, Williams accompanied Davis to Boston College. After one year there, Williams became the head coach at American.

Williams immediately began making his mark. His 1981 squad set the still-standing school record for victories with a 24-6 mark, won the East Coast Conference championship and played in the NIT. Williams was named the district coach of the year. American returned to postseason play the next season as the Williams-led Eagles went 21-9 and played in the NIT for the second consecutive year. Only once prior to Williams' arrival had AU attended a postseason tournament, and the Eagles have not returned since. Williams' four-year record at AU was 72-42.

In 1983, Williams succeeded Davis at Boston College. He was once again an instant success, posting a 25-7 record and leading the Eagles to the regular-season championship of the Big East in his first season. Making his first appearance in the NCAA Tournament, Williams directed the Eagles to the Sweet 16. He finished third in the balloting for national coach of the year, and was honored again as the Eastern Coach of the Year by his peers. He went on to duplicate that NCAA Tournament success again in 1985, leading B.C. back to the Sweet Sixteen.

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching job at Ohio State, becoming the 10th basketball coach in that school's illustrious history. He succeeded Eldon Miller and once again enjoyed success. In three years, the Buckeyes made three postseason appearances. His first squad defeated then-No. 1 and unbeaten Iowa (coached by Tom Davis) in the regular season, in what would be the first of many giant-killings. During Williams' three-year term at Ohio State, OSU defeated a second-ranked Purdue team, perennial power Kansas and highly regarded Big Ten powers Michigan and Illinois. Each of Williams' three Ohio State teams advanced to postseason play, and he laid the groundwork for the highly successful teams that followed when he left Columbus for College Park.

Williams' Charity Work

Coaches vs. Cancer

Of the many charities with which Gary Williams has been involved, one that has been special to the long-time coach is the Coaches vs. Cancer Three-Point Attack. Since 1996, Gary Williams has served on the Coaches Council, a 15-member board that serves as the governing body for Coaches vs. Cancer.

The program is a partnership between the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and the American Cancer Society. The coaches participating in this program are dedicated to fighting cancer through increased support for research, patient services and prevention education.

Coaches vs. Cancer utilizes a Three-Point Attack that combines pledges from fans with their team's three-point baskets made throughout the season.

Williams' recent charity work has benefited:
Coaches Vs. Cancer
National Autism Research
National Physical Education Council
The Salvation Army

Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

In 1999 and 2000, Coach Williams hosted a charity basketball game at Cole Field House to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Williams' CFF basketball game has included former Maryland basketball stars Len Elmore, Tom McMillen, Duane Simpkins and Buck Williams. Other participants have included former Maryland football player and NFL quarterback Boomer Esiason, Maryland track All-American and NFL receiver Renaldo Nehemiah, former Redskins Jeff Bostic and Charles Mann, former Washington Bullets stars Phil Chenier and Kevin Grevey, former Dallas Cowboy Calvin Hill, tennis star Pam Shriver, Maryland legislators Thomas "Mike" Miller and Steny Hoyer, nationally-renowned sports columnists John Feinstein and Frank Deford, Terrapin play-by-play voices Johnny Holliday and Chris Knoche, and "Meet The Press" host Tim Russert.

The inaugural event occurred on April 27, 1999. The second event took place on May 4, 2000, with Williams and Feinstein as opposing coaches. A golf outing was conducted in summer 2001.

Williams speaks at the National Autism Walk this year.

DAVE Dickerson

Assistant Coach

- Maryland '90
- Eighth Year at Maryland
- 2003 AFLAC National Assistant Coach of The Year

Dave Dickerson's seven-year tenure as an assistant coach at his alma mater has coincided with seven of the most successful years in the history of the program. In addition to his indispensable role during Maryland's first-ever national championship run in 2002 and the Terps' first outright regular-season ACC title since 1980, Terp teams have made seven NCAA Tournament appearances and have been ranked among the nation's Top 10 in nearly every season of his tenure. During Dickerson's seven-year career on the Terrapin bench, Maryland owns a 173-63 record (.733 winning percentage).

Following Maryland's first trip to the Final Four during the 2000-01 postseason, Dickerson was elevated on Gary Williams' staff to take the lead in the Terrapins' recruiting and scouting efforts. He has played an integral role in recruiting during his first seven seasons at his alma mater, including the recruiting of five classes that were ranked among the nation's best and one in the 2003-04 season that has been rated as high as No. 2 in the nation.

Overall, Dickerson's 13-year coaching career has included 13 straight winning seasons and eight postseason appearances.

Dickerson joined Williams' staff prior to the 1996-97 season and immediately began to put his stamp on the program. During his first season, Maryland defeated three ranked teams and was ranked as high as No. 2 during the year. In 1997-98, the Terps advanced to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen and recorded 21 victories including wins over No. 1 North Carolina and No. 2 Kansas. A year later, Maryland won 28 games, 13 conference games and again advanced to the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen.

The 2000-01 season's accomplishments and trip to the Final Four were only eclipsed by Maryland's national title in 2001-02 and winningest season in history at 32-4 and 15-1 in the ACC. Dickerson's seventh season at his alma mater featured a fifth Sweet Sixteen appearance for the Terps, a fifth Top 10 ranking in the final coaches poll, a school-record seventh-straight 20-win season and a victory over No. 1 Duke in the inaugural season at Comcast Center.

Widely recognized as one of the top assistant coaches in the nation, Dickerson has been cited by ESPN's Andy Katz as a "Coach on the Rise," and was named an AFLAC Assistant Coach of the Year by Coach & Athletic Director Magazine, all in 2003.

Top Recruiter

Dickerson's success as one of the nation's top recruiters has translated into success on the court. He was instrumental in attracting the Terps' 1997 and 1998 recruiting classes, both of which were ranked in the top 10 nationally, a group of 2002 rookies ranked as high as fourth in the nation and the No. 2 recruiting class in the country for 2003-04. Maryland's 1998 recruiting class was ranked third in the nation, while the Terps' 1999 recruiting class contained three of the nation's top players at three different positions. Dickerson's most recent efforts helped Maryland to attract a 2003-04 class of top-100 recruits, including McDonald's All-American and No. 2 shooting guard prospect Mike Jones, No. 9 power forward Ekene Ibekwe and No. 10 center Hassan Fofana.

Dickerson's scouting and recruiting abilities helped the Maryland coaching staff bring All-America guard Steve Francis, who was the No. 2 overall selection in the 1999 draft and NBA All-Star, home to the Terrapins. The 2002 draft saw three Dickerson recruits – Chris Wilcox, Final Four Most Outstanding Player Juan Dixon and two-time NCAA Regional MVP Lonny Baxter – become selections in the first two rounds, marking only the second time in school history that three Terrapins have been drafted as high.

In all, Dickerson has recruited and coached two NBA lottery picks – Steve Francis (1999) and Chris Wilcox (2002) – and four overall first-round selections in Keith Booth (1997), Francis, Wilcox and Dixon (2002). It has been Dickerson's nationwide emergence on the recruiting trail that has allowed him to rise so quickly up the coaching ladder.

Prior to coming to Maryland, Dickerson was an assistant coach at Radford University, where he helped assemble recruiting classes that ranked among the nation's best. The 1994 season saw the Highlanders compile a 20-8 record and a school-record winning percentage of .714. Radford enjoyed the best four-year period in its history with winning records in each of the seasons that Dickerson was an assistant.

It was also at Radford that Dickerson began to make his mark as a bench coach. Radford gained national acclaim and became one of the most successful programs in the Big South Conference during Dickerson's tenure. Radford defeated Louisiana State, 73-72, on Dec. 30, 1993, to gain the biggest victory in school history. The Highlanders scored the game-winning basket with 2.8 seconds remaining in the game just after LSU had taken its first lead of the second half. Dickerson was the assistant coach in charge of scouting LSU.

From Athlete To Coach

Dickerson played forward at Maryland from 1986-89 and earned four varsity letters. He was co-captain as a senior in 1989. Dickerson saw action in the 1986 and 1988 NCAA Tournaments and was a member of three teams that advanced to the ACC Tournament semifinals. The Terps won 19 games his freshman year and 18 during his junior season. Dickerson was a starter on the 1989 team that became the first No. 8 seed to defeat a No. 1 seed in the ACC Tournament when the Terps knocked off NC State.

In 1990, Dickerson earned his bachelor's degree in government and politics from Maryland, and soon after he began his coaching career on the staff of Gardner-Webb University in North Carolina. After a year at Gardner-Webb he joined former Terp head coach Lefty Driesell at James Madison for a 1992 season that culminated in a bid to the NIT.

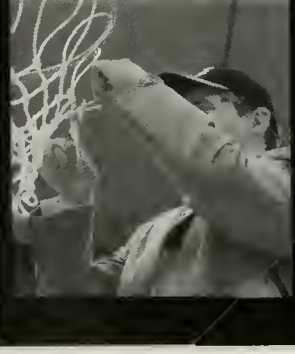
From 1993-96, Dickerson was an assistant coach at Radford, where he began constructing his sparkling reputation under former Maryland assistant coach Ron Bradley.

A native of Olar, S.C., Dickerson earned the team award for Greatest Career Contribution in 1989 and for Most Improved Player in 1987. Dave is married to the former Laurette Newsom, a 1991 graduate of Maryland. The couple gave birth to their first child, Dave III, on Oct. 19, 2000.

JIMMY Patsos

Assistant Coach

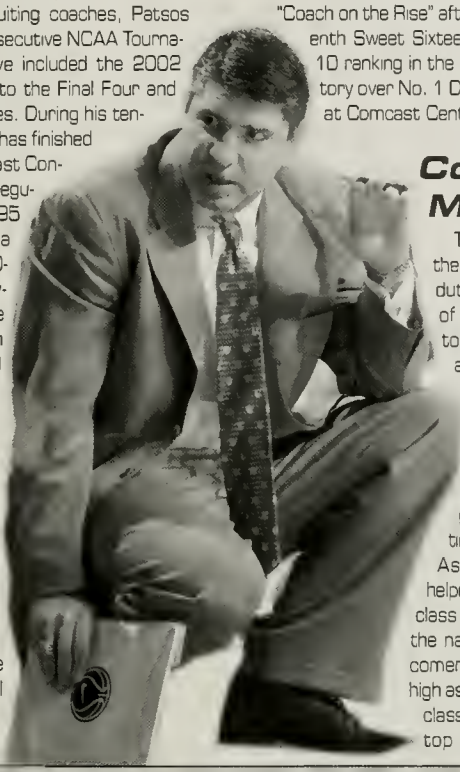
- Catholic '89
- 13th Year at Maryland



Now in his 13th season on Gary Williams' coaching staff, Jimmy Patsos has been on the sidelines for nearly every season of Williams' career at Maryland. One of the Terps' three scouting and recruiting coaches, Patsos helped guide the Terps in 10 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances -- which have included the 2002 NCAA championship, two trips to the Final Four and seven Sweet Sixteen appearances. During his tenure with the Terrapins, Maryland has finished in the top half of the Atlantic Coast Conference 10 times, won two ACC regular season championships (1994-95 and 2001-02) and posted a school-record seven-straight 20-win seasons. In addition, four players (Walt Williams in 1992, Joe Smith in 1995, Steve Francis in 1999 and Chris Wilcox in 2002) have been lottery selections in the NBA Draft.

During his career at Maryland, Patsos has coached 13 NBA Draft choices including first-round selections Williams, Smith, Keith Booth (1997), Francis, Wilcox and Juan Dixon (2002). He has been a key component of Maryland's success and its current legacy of continuity.

One of the top assistants in the nation, Patsos has been a model of consistency and longevity for the Maryland program. After helping guide the Terps to the 2002 NCAA title, Patsos was lauded in a preseason annual for his loyalty and longtime service. He was recognized by ESPN's Andy Katz as a "Coach on the Rise" after helping the Terps to seventh Sweet Sixteen appearance, a fifth Top-10 ranking in the final coaches poll and a victory over No. 1 Duke in the inaugural season at Comcast Center in 2003.



Coach And Mentor

The 2001-02 season saw the focus of Patsos' coaching duties shift from supervision of the Terps' academic affairs to student-athlete recruiting and opponent scouting. Patsos played a key role in the advance scouting of opponents from the season's opening tip to the Terps' NCAA title game in Atlanta, and continued his duties in 2002-03. As a recruiter, the coach helped Maryland to land a 2002 class ranked as high as fourth in the nation, and a group of newcomers for 2003-04 rated as high as second in the country. The class of 2007 includes several top 100 recruits, including McDonald's All-American and No. 2 shooting guard prospect Mike Jones, No. 9 power forward Ekene Ibekwe and No. 10 center Hassan Fofana.

Patsos joined the Terrapins as a volunteer assistant during the 1991-92 season and immediately became an integral part of Williams' staff. His numerous responsibilities have centered on opponent scouting, on-court coaching and the academic development of Maryland's players. His role as an academic mentor during his first 10 seasons on Williams' staff proved prosperous, as the teams' overall academic performance improved under his guidance.

Prior to his appointment at Maryland, Patsos was the assistant coach at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C. He helped Carroll to a 21-8 record and a national ranking of No. 6 during his first season before the team lost to the famed DeMatha Catholic High School in the city playoffs. Patsos was involved in the maturation of Charles Hamison (Wake Forest) and Lawrence Moten (Syracuse), both of whom became stars on the collegiate level.

Each summer, Patsos assists in the direction of the Gary Williams basketball camp, coordinating counselor management, facility and participant scheduling, housing, meals and guest speakers. Attendance over the past four summers has been the largest in camp history. In addition to his work with the Gary Williams camp, he is a frequent speaker at camps throughout Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania during the summer months, and he coordinates the public speaking engagements of the Terps' players.

From Catholic To College Park

Patsos was a three-year varsity letterwinner at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. During his career, the Cardinals posted a record of 51-26. Patsos played for the late Jack Bruen, who later led Colgate University to a pair of NCAA Division I Tournament appearances.

Catholic won four regular-season tournament championships during Patsos' career, including the 1989 Manhattanville Tournament. Patsos scored a career-high 17 points and grabbed a career-high 14 rebounds in the championship game to lead the Cardinals to a 106-99 victory over Manhattanville. Other top games during his senior season included 12 points and five rebounds vs. Frostburg State, 10 rebounds at Scranton and 12 points and nine rebounds against St. Mary's (Md.).

As a junior, Patsos recorded season highs of 14 points against Upsala and 11 rebounds against Washington College. He scored 12 points and grabbed five rebounds to lead Catholic to the championship of the Alfred University Charity Cage Classic with a 90-88 victory over the host Saxons. The Cardinals were 18-8 during both his junior and senior years, then a school record for victories in a single season.

Patsos' teammate during the 1987 and 1988 seasons was current Catholic head coach Mike Lonergan, who has led the Cardinals to the Sweet Sixteen of the past four NCAA Division III tournaments, including a national title in 2001.

A native of Boston, Mass., who grew up attending games at the Boston Garden, Patsos earned his bachelor's degree in history from Catholic in 1989. A brother, Chris, captained the Florida Southern baseball team to the 1981 NCAA Division II World Series championship.

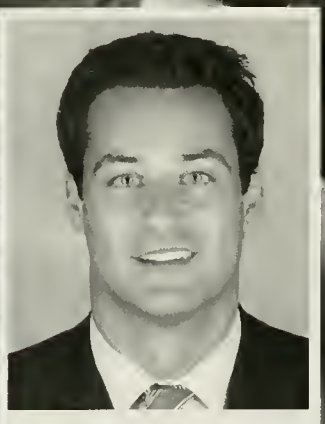
MATT Kovarik



Assistant Coach

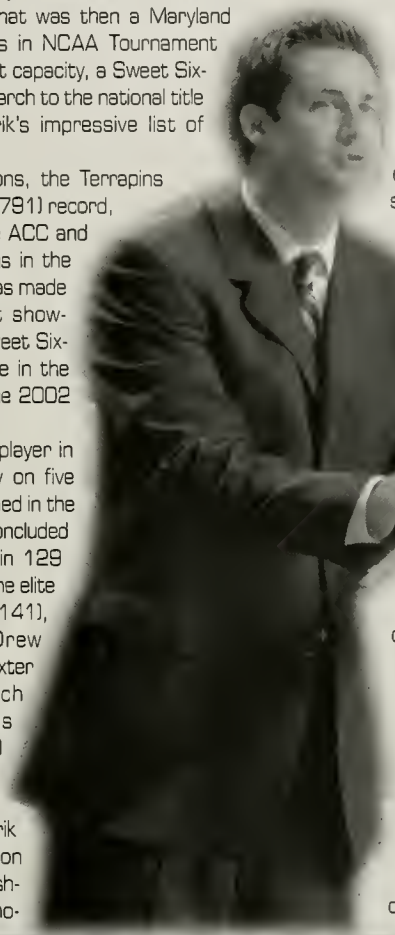
- Maryland '98
- Third Year at Maryland

Now in his third season on the sidelines of his alma mater, former Terrapin Matt Kovarik has already experienced success in the coaching ranks. A steady, defense-oriented guard, Kovarik lettered from 1994-98 under Gary Williams and finished his collegiate career with what was then a Maryland record nine appearances in NCAA Tournament games. Now in a different capacity, a Sweet Sixteen appearance and a march to the national title can be added to Kovarik's impressive list of postseason accolades.

In his first two seasons, the Terrapins have compiled a 53-14 (.791) record, two Top 2 finishes in the ACC and two Top 10 final rankings in the coaches poll. Maryland has made two NCAA Tournament showings, two trips to the Sweet Sixteen and one appearance in the Final Four en route to the 2002 championship.

Kovarik was the first player in Maryland history to play on five straight teams that finished in the top half of the ACC. He concluded his career after playing in 129 games, which trails only the elite company of Juan Dixon (141), Steve Blake (138), Drew Nicholas (138), Lonny Baxter (138), Mike Mardesich (137), Terence Morris (136) and Len Bias (131) in the Terrapin record book.

As a freshman, Kovarik was an honorable mention pick for the ACC All-Freshman team, and as a sophomore was part of the Terps' 1995 ACC regular season championship. He played on NCAA Tournament teams in 1994, 1995, 1997 and 1998, helping the Terps advance to the Sweet Sixteen three times.



To Law School And Back Again

Kovarik, who recently completed his first year of law school, began his coaching career in summer 2001, assuming the role of helping the student-athletes manage their day-to-day schedules. Kovarik works with the Maryland players and the athletics department's Academic Support and Career Development unit to ensure that the team's academic responsibilities are met. Over the course of his first two seasons, he also contributed to the program's advance scouting and on-the-court coaching, which he will continue in 2003-04.

As the co-director of the Gary Williams summer basketball camp, Kovarik coordinates the management of the coaches, the scheduling of the facilities, housing, meals and guest speakers. Kovarik was largely responsible for the oversight of the 2002 and 2003 summer camps, which boasted the largest attendance numbers in camp history following the Terps' 10th straight NCAA tournament appearance.

A member of the All-ACC Academic team as a junior, Kovarik won the Terps' scholar-athlete award in three consecutive seasons from 1996 to 1998. Following commencement Kovarik worked for Xerox in New York City for two years before attending the University of Maryland School of Law in Baltimore.

"Matt was the type of player that helped make us a very good basketball team while he was here. He was the type of defensive player that could guard anyone from a point guard to a small forward," commented Williams on Kovarik's style of play. "He has a very good knowledge of the game, and relates well to our players."

Five NCAA Tourney Teams

Kovarik averaged 2.4 points, 2.0 assists and 1.7 rebounds while playing 15 minutes per game during his senior campaign with the Terps. Maryland finished 21-11 in his senior season, capping a career that saw Maryland post five straight winning seasons and five straight NCAA Tournament appearances. The Terrapins were 103-55 during his five-year career.

The Greensboro, N.C., native played just five games of the 1996 season after suffering a stress fracture in his right leg. He posted a career-high nine points and seven rebounds as a freshman against Morgan State in 1993. He had six assists against UNC Asheville as a senior in 1997, and dished a career-high eight assists at Missouri two games later.

Kovarik prepped at Grimsley High School where he was a three-year starter at point guard.

TROY Wainwright

Director of Basketball Operations

- Maryland '90
- Eighth Year at Maryland

Troy Wainwright, the director of basketball operations, is in his eighth year as a member of Gary Williams' staff. He is an essential part of the success of the team, both on and off the court, and is responsible for the administration of the basketball office.

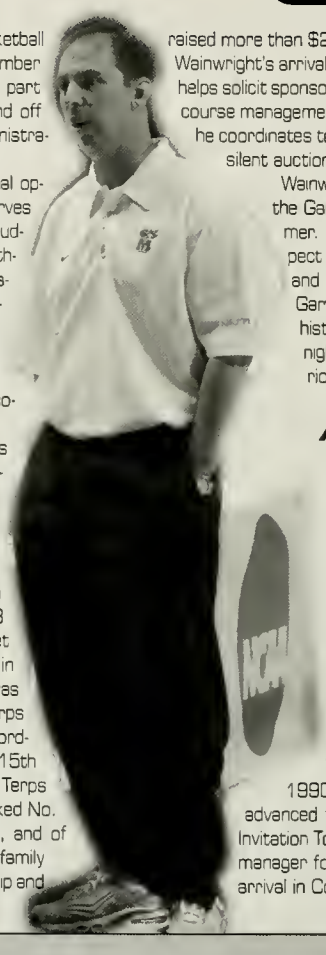
Wainwright is responsible for all internal operations of the basketball program and serves as a liaison to the athletic department including Deborah Yow, Maryland's director of athletics. He is involved in the day-to-day operations of the team, including budgetary matters, team travel, on-campus housing and dining contracts. In addition, Wainwright is responsible for non-conference scheduling and works with the conference office to coordinate the Terps' ACC schedule.

A native of Berlin, Md., Wainwright has played an integral role in the Terps' success since his arrival. The Terps have appeared in the NCAA Tournament seven times, advanced to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament six times and have averaged nearly 25 wins during his seven seasons with the team. In 2003, 1998 and 1999 the Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament, and in 1999, Maryland won 28 games and was ranked fifth in the nation. In 1998, the Terps played the nation's toughest schedule according to the Sagarin ratings and were ranked 15th in the final national polls. In 2001, the Terps advanced to the Final Four and were ranked No. 4 in final rankings by USA Today/ESPN, and of course, in 2002 the Maryland basketball family captured its first-ever national championship and finished with a No. 1 ranking.

Among Wainwright's chief responsibilities is the administration of team travel plans. Wainwright coordinates all transportation (air and ground) as well as hotel accommodations. During his tenure, Wainwright has successfully coordinated travel to seven NCAA Tournaments, seven ACC Tournaments, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Madison Square Garden, as well as every regular-season game. Wainwright successfully directed the Terrapins up and down the East Coast during the 2002 NCAA championship run, and to Nashville and San Antonio as part of Maryland's 2003 Sweet Sixteen campaign.

Wainwright serves as the director of the annual Gary Williams golf tournament that raises money to endow scholarships for the basketball program. The tournament has raised more than $200,000 during the seven years since Wainwright's arrival. As tournament director, Wainwright helps solicit sponsorships and participants, and helps with course management on the day of the event. In addition, he coordinates team and individual player awards and a silent auction.

Wainwright also serves as the co-director of the Gary Williams basketball camp each summer. He helps coordinate virtually every aspect of the camp including housing, meals and camp speakers. The 2002 and 2003 Gary Williams camps were the largest in its history, attracting more than 1,200 overnight campers each over a three-week period in the last two summers.



A Terp Returns

Wainwright received his bachelor of science degree in sociology from the University of Maryland in 1990. After graduating from Maryland he worked as an account manager with the Washington Bullets from 1992-1994 and as an advertising account executive at the Washington Times from 1994-96.

Wainwright served as head manager for the basketball team during Williams' first season at Maryland, 1990, and accompanied the Terps as they advanced to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament. He served as an assistant manager for the three years preceding Williams' arrival in College Park.

CD in my CD Player Most: Anything by Jay-Z.

Hero/Role Model: My mom, because I can always count on her.

The best thing about Maryland is: It is an "undercover" campus. It looks like a quiet place, but it's really not.

What do you want to accomplish this season? Win a national championship, because I don't have a ring yet.

JOHN Gilchrist

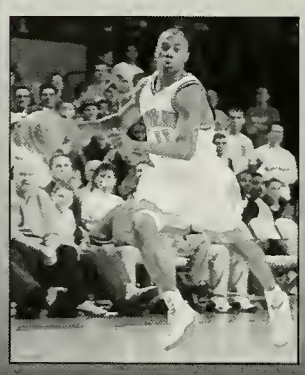
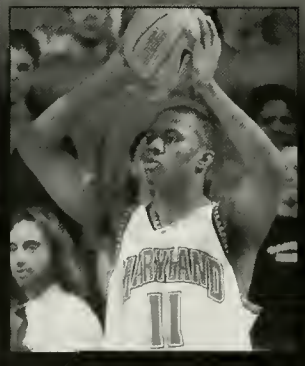
- Guard
- Virginia Beach, Va.
- Salem H.S.
- 6-3, 199
- Sophomore, 1V





On Gilchrist: A tough, physical point guard who runs the floor with proficiency and possesses an uncanny ability to finish ... expected to be the Terps' top floor general this season, taking over for four-year starter Steve Blake ... posted an impressive assists/turnover ratio as a freshman and was third on the squad, only to Blake and Drew Nicholas, in terms of assists ... characterized as a winner and a competitor, and lists former Terp Juan Dixon as one of his all-time favorite players ... attended Maryland's summer youth basketball camp since he was nine years old.

Williams on Gilchrist: "John was probably as good as any freshman guard in the ACC last year. He gave us some very valuable minutes, and with his strength and determination, he is a very effective point guard. Losing a four-year starter like Steve Blake, it is very important for John to be ready to be a full-time player this year."

As a Freshman in 2002-03: Powerfully built true freshman who saw time at the point guard position during his first college season ... gave Terps solid depth in the backcourt as a big guard to create match up difficulties for opponents ... averaged 5.3 points per game and shot .833 (5-6) from the field and .857 (6-7) from the free throw line across the Terps' three NCAA Tournament games ... totaled 53 points (23-of-33 from field), 23 rebounds and 14 assists in the last eight games of the season ... netted six points and dished three assists in 15 minutes vs. UNC Wilmington in Maryland's NCAA first-round game (March 21) ... registered career highs for points (11) and rebounds (9) in Maryland's 40-point victory over North Carolina (Feb. 22) ... scored six points with a pair of driving layups and two free throws during a key 14-2 second half run in a victory at North Carolina (Jan. 22) ... contributed six points and three assists vs. No. 1 Duke (Jan. 18), and combined with Jamar Smith to score 10 straight points while lifting Maryland to a victory over the top-ranked Blue Devils ... scored 10 points to go along with four rebounds and four assists vs. No. 14 Florida (Dec. 14) ... collected six points on 3-of-3 field goal shooting and added five rebounds against Hampton (Jan. 8) ... recorded three assists during 16 minutes of play against No. 10 Indiana (Dec. 3) in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge ... had four steals to go along with nine points against Duquesne (Nov. 30) ... reached double-digit scoring with 10 points in only his second game as a collegian, vs. The Citadel (Nov. 27).

High School: A four-year starter at Salem High School, where he graduated in 2002 ... the AP AAA Player of the Year in Virginia after leading Salem to the AAA state title in 2001 as a junior ... team finished 23-1 as a sophomore, 29-1 as a junior and 17-2 as a senior under coach Bill Cochrane ... team was 10-0 in Virginia's East Region Beach District as a senior, falling to Hampton in the state's Eastern Region quarterfinal game ... finalist for the McDonald's All-America team ... then regarded as one of the top five prep point guards in the country ... averaged 20 points, eight assists and just one turnover per game as a senior ...scored 19.8 points per contest in 2000-01, to go with 7.5 assists and 6.7 rebounds ... shot over 85 percent from the free throw line and over 45 percent from the 3-point stripe in his last two seasons ... averaged 15 points and eight assists as just a sophomore ... ranked as the top point guard at the 2001 Nike Camp in Indianapolis, and as the country's fifth-best point guard by The Sporting News ... played in the Charm City Challenge all-star game in Baltimore with Terrapin teammate Chris McCray ... joined McCray, Nik Caner-Medley and Travis Garrison as participants at the Capital Classic at the MCI Center ... teamed with Duke's J.J. Redick while winning AAU 17-under and 19-under national championships ... also was an AAU All-American.

Personal: John H. Gilchrist III ... born June 29, 1984 ... son of LaRita and John Gilchrist ... has an older brother, Roderick (26) and a younger sister, Jeanetta (14) ... enjoys fishing, boats, jet skiing and anything on water ... learned to fish with his dad's brother (Eric) and sister (Terri) ... hopes to study communications at Maryland ... favorite high school memory off-the-court was his high school graduation because it made his family proud ... largest role model is his grandmother, Vernice Gilchrist of Norfolk, Va., who raised him during summers ... spent his summers growing up in Norfolk, where he learned to play basketball at the Boys and Girls Clubs in that area ... majoring in letters & sciences.

ABOUT the ACC

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 51st year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

John Swofford, ACC Commissioner

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 88 national champion-ships. Since 1990, the ACC has won 45 NCAA national titles and this past year eight ACC schools finished in the Top 50 of the final NACDA Directors' Cup ranking, including four in the Top 25.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA annals. With Maryland's victory over Indiana in the 2002 NCAA title game, ACC teams have captured nine NCAA basketball championships, including five over the last 13 years.

No conference has posted a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC since the NCAA's inaugural tournament in 1938. The nine current conference members have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 301-154 for a sterling .661 winning percentage against the nation's toughest competition.

Since 1985, when the NCAA Tournament was expanded to 64 teams, the ACC teams have been even more impressive compiling a 189-90 (.677) NCAA record, including 53 "Sweet 16" appearances and 18 Final Four berths. Since 1985, 53 of the 94 ACC teams receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

Since the 1990 season, ACC teams are 168-161 against non-conference ranked opponents. Since 1990, the ACC is the only conference to post a winning record against non-conference foes.

North Carolina and Duke lead all ACC schools with three NCAA championships each. NC State has two NCAA titles to its credit and Maryland one. The Tar Heels captured NCAA titles in 1957, 1982 and 1993 while the Blue Devils won back-to-back championships in 1991 and 1992 and their third in 2001. The Wolfpack walked away with the coveted crown in 1974 and 1983 while the Terps claimed the 2002 national title.

The stature of ACC basketball is nowhere more clearly defined than by its regional and national television exposure. A total of 152 televised games involving ACC teams headline the league's 2003-04 schedule, including a record -tying 231 appearances. League teams are slated to make 133 appearances on national television and 71 of the league's 72 regular season games, including 39 on national television networks are scheduled to be televised.

Since 1986, 71 players from the ACC have been selected in the first round of the NBA Draft - 15 more than any other conference. This past season, the ACC led all conferences with 51 of its former players in the NBA, including Tim Duncan (Wake Forest), who was named as the NBA Most Valuable Player for the second year in a row.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2003-04 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981. Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

History of the ACC

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommenced that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

This past June 30, conference membership increased to 11 with the announcement that the University of Miami and Virginia Tech had accepted invitations to join the league beginning in the 2004-05 academic year. Boston College was officially welcomed to the league on Oct. 17, 2003.

Terps Open Comcast Center; Reach NCAA Sweet 16

• The 2002-03 Maryland basketball team (No. 17 AP, No. 10 USA Today/ESPN) posted a 21-10 record en route to the program's 10th straight NCAA Tournament berth and third consecutive Sweet Sixteen appearance. One season after reaching its second-straight Final Four and capturing the first national championship in school history, Maryland made its fifth Sweet Sixteen appearance in the last six seasons and the seventh during the Terps' 10-year run of NCAA appearances since 1994.

• Maryland finished the season ranked No. 10 according to the final USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll, released April 8. It marked Maryland's fourth Top 10 finish in the coaches poll in the last five seasons, and the program's 10th overall. Maryland has been ranked in the Top 10 in 25 of the last 40 polls by the college head coaches.

• Maryland, Arizona and Kentucky are the only schools in the nation that have achieved each of the following:

• Won a national championship in the last 10 years.

• Received berths in each of 10 NCAA Tournaments from 1994 to 2003 (Maryland, Arizona, Cincinnati, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky).

• Made appearances in the Sweet Sixteen at least seven times since 1994 (Maryland, Arizona, Connecticut, Kansas, Duke, Kentucky).

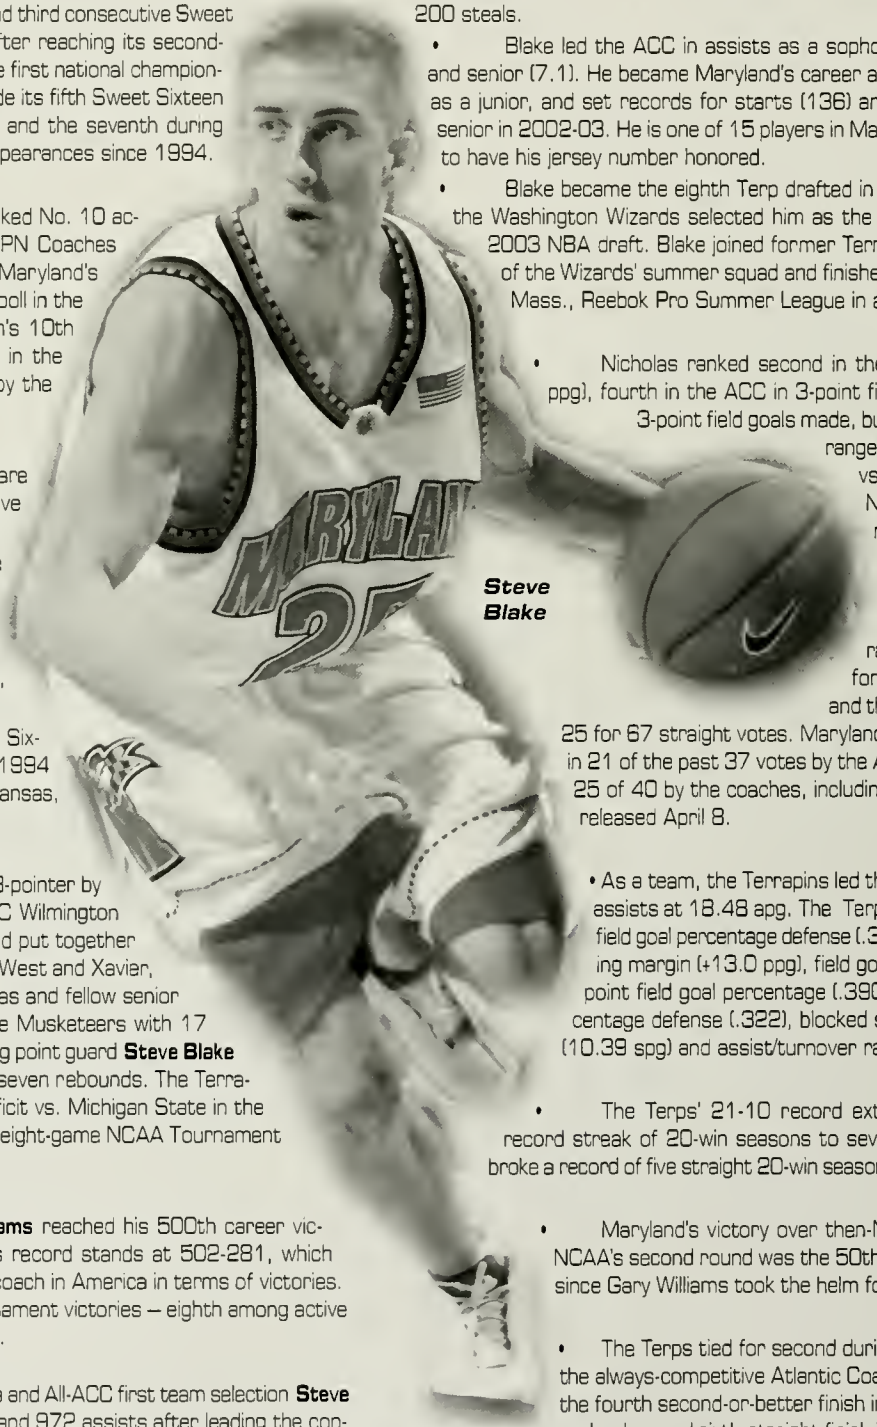
• Maryland used a buzzer-beating 3-pointer by senior Drew Nicholas to down UNC Wilmington in the NCAA first round, 75-73, and put together a solid team effort to outlast David West and Xavier, 77-64, in the second round. Nicholas and fellow senior Ryan Randle led the Terps over the Musketeers with 17 points apiece, while four-year starting point guard Steve Blake added nine points, nine assists and seven rebounds. The Terrapins came back from a 14-point deficit vs. Michigan State in the regional semifinal, but concluded an eight-game NCAA Tournament win streak, 60-58, in San Antonio.

• Maryland head coach Gary Williams reached his 500th career victory at NC State on March 2. His record stands at 502-281, which makes him the 17th-leading active coach in America in terms of victories. Williams now totals 25 NCAA Tournament victories – eighth among active coaches – and is 21-9 at Maryland.

• Honorable mention AP All-America and All-ACC first team selection Steve Blake totaled 1,139 career points and 972 assists after leading the conference in assists for three straight seasons. He finished his career fifth on the NCAA's all-time career assists chart, and is the only player in ACC history to total more than 1,000 points, 800 assists, 400 rebounds and 200 steals.

• Blake led the ACC in assists as a sophomore (6.9), junior (7.9) and senior (7.1). He became Maryland's career assist leader in 2001-02 as a junior, and set records for starts (136) and minutes (4,312) as a senior in 2002-03. He is one of 15 players in Maryland basketball history to have his jersey number honored.

• Blake became the eighth Terp drafted in the last five years when the Washington Wizards selected him as the 36th overall pick in the 2003 NBA draft. Blake joined former Terrapin Juan Dixon as part of the Wizards' summer squad and finished second in the Boston, Mass., Reebok Pro Summer League in assists.



Steve Blake

• Nicholas ranked second in the ACC in scoring (17.8 ppg), fourth in the ACC in 3-point field goal percentage and 3-point field goals made, but his game-winning long-range shots at NC State and vs. UNC Wilmington in the NCAA Tournament's first round will be remembered for decades.

• The Terps have been ranked in the AP Top 25 for 73 consecutive weeks, and the USA Today/ESPN Top 25 for 67 straight votes. Maryland has been in the Top 10 in 21 of the past 37 votes by the Associated Press, and in 25 of 40 by the coaches, including the season-ending poll released April 8.

• As a team, the Terrapins led the ACC and the nation in assists at 18.48 apg. The Terps also paced the ACC in field goal percentage defense (.378, 3rd nationally), scoring margin (+13.0 ppg), field goal percentage (.464), 3-point field goal percentage (.390), 3-point field goal percentage defense (.322), blocked shots (6.39 bpg), steals (10.39 spg) and assist/turnover ratio (1.33).

• The Terps' 21-10 record extended an active school record streak of 20-win seasons to seven. Last year, Maryland broke a record of five straight 20-win seasons, from 1972 to 1976.

• Maryland's victory over then-No. 12/14 Xavier in the NCAA's second round was the 50th win over a ranked team since Gary Williams took the helm for the 1989-90 season.

• The Terps tied for second during the regular season in the always-competitive Atlantic Coast Conference, marking the fourth second-or-better finish in the last five years, and a school record sixth-straight finish in the league's top three.

Similarly, Maryland's 11-5 ACC record marked a school-record sixth-straight season of double-figure ACC victories.

• Attendance records were broken in the Terps' first season at the $125 million, state-of-the-art, 17,950-seat Comcast Center. The Terps finished fifth in the nation in terms of home attendance, establishing new school records for single-game attendance with nine full sellouts, and setting a new single-season mark for season attendance (281,057) and per game average (17,566). Maryland's fifth-place national attendance finish was the best in school history.

• The Terps' 87-72 win over then-No. 1 Duke on Jan. 18, 2003, at Comcast Center gave Gary Williams his fifth-ever victory over a top-ranked team, tying him with Duke's Mike Krzyzewski for the most victories over No. 1 among active ACC coaches.

Comcast Center's Inaugural Game: Nov. 24, 2002

Game 1
[12/15] Maryland 64, Miami (O.) 49

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Playing the role of defending NCAA champions for the first time, Maryland delighted the largest home crowd in school history with a performance reminiscent of its banner season of a year ago.

Drew Nicholas scored 16 points as 12th-ranked Maryland cruised to its 85th consecutive non-conference home victory, 64-49 over Miami of Ohio.

The night began with the unfurling of the championship banner from the rafters of the new $125 Comcast Center. The scene obviously had an impact on Maryland coach Gary Williams, who was swept away by the moment.

"You never know if you're going to see that during your coaching career," he said. "I was kind of caught up in it."

So much that he followed the ceremony with his customary pregame speech to his team.

"Then I remembered they hadn't introduced the players yet. So after they introduced the players, I had to give the same speech again - and they still didn't hear me," Williams said.

Playing in front of an emotionally charged sellout crowd of 17,950, the Terrapins (1-0) turned in a performance befitting their stature as defending national champions.

Maryland limited the RedHawks (0-2) to 27-percent shooting in taking an 11-point halftime lead, then used a 9-0 run early in the second half to pull away.

The Terrapins' 85-game non-conference run, which started in 1989 at Cole Field House, is the longest in the nation. Maryland also has won 19 straight overall at home since Feb. 14, 2001.

Danny Horace had 17 points and 12 rebounds for Miami, which had the misfortune of drawing the defending champions in the opening of their new arena.

Ryan Randle scored a career-high 15 points for the Terrapins, who lost four starters from the team that beat Indiana in 2002 to claim the school's first NCAA title. But Maryland, which started five seniors against Miami, seems to have enough talent and depth to make a serious run at a third straight Final Four appearance.

It was 23-19 before Terrapin freshman Nik Caner-Medley made a free throw and Blake followed with six straight points, including a 3-pointer, to put Maryland up 32-21 at the half.

Horace opened the second half with a layup, but Maryland's Calvin McCall responded with a jumper, freshman Travis Garrison made a three-point play and Randle made successive baskets in the lane for a 41-23 lead.

The final score from the first game.

Game 2

(11/11) Maryland 97, The Citadel 49

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – A quick start by Maryland put a rapid end to any hopes The Citadel had of hanging with the defending NCAA champions.

Drew Nicholas scored 17 of his career-high 28 points in the first half as No. 11 Maryland built a 26-point lead and cruised to a 97-49 victory.

Nicholas had 10 points in the opening nine minutes to help the Terrapins go up 24-5. That convinced the Bulldogs that this wasn't going to be their night.

After missing nine of their first 11 shots, the Bulldogs (1-2) never recovered.

Nicholas' 17 points and six baskets at halftime matched the Bulldogs' totals. The senior guard finished with a career-best five 3-pointers in eclipsing his previous career high of 27 points.

Steve Blake had 13 points, five assists and five steals for the Terrapins, who forced 30 turnovers.

It was the 86th consecutive non-conference home victory for the Terrapins (2-0), who never trailed in extending their overall home winning streak to 20 - four short of the school record.

Maryland has allowed only 98 points in its first two games, its best start defensively since yielding a combined 91 to Penn State and North Carolina State in 1966.

The Bulldogs have lost 32 straight to ACC opponents since beating Clemson in 1979.

Williams used 11 players in the first half, and virtually every combination worked. The Terps got points from seven different players and limited the Bulldogs to 6-for-24 shooting in building a 43-17 lead.

After Blake opened the scoring with a 3-pointer to put Maryland in front to stay, the Bulldogs committed seven turnovers and fell behind by 19 points with nine minutes elapsed.

Williams then went with four freshmen and junior college transfer Jamar Smith. The Terrapins made only one basket in two minutes with that lineup but managed to keep the margin at 19 points.

Hammack, meanwhile, accounted for nine of the Bulldogs' first 11 points - on three 3-pointers.

It was 34-15 before Nicholas hit a 3-pointer, Calvin McCall made a layup and a Nicholas scored inside off a pass from Ryan Randle to put Maryland up by 26.

The 26-point halftime lead was the Terrapins' largest since they led Pittsburgh 46-17 in the championship of the 1998 Puerto Rico Shootout.

Game 3

(11/11) Maryland 89, Duquesne 39

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Playing with four new starters and a bench filled with freshmen, Maryland opened the season striving to improve with every game.

After beating Miami of Ohio by 15 points and The Citadel by 48, the defending national champions improved to 3-0 by cruising to an 89-39 rout of Duquesne.

Drew Nicholas scored 19 points and Ryan Randle added a career-high 16 as Maryland extended its non-conference home winning streak to 87 games by blowing out Duquesne.

No Duquesne player scored more than seven points. The Dukes (1-3) finished with 35 turnovers, including nine by reserve guard Bryant McAllister.

The Terrapins, who allowed 49 points in each of their first two games, last held three straight opponents under 50 points in February 1954.

Nicholas scored all his points before halftime, helping Maryland build a 50-19 lead. Several of his baskets came off passes from Steve Blake, who had 10 of his 13 assists in the first half.

The Terrapins' non-conference winning streak at home, which began in 1989 and includes two victories over Duquesne, is the longest such run in the nation.

Maryland made seven of its first nine shots, getting seven points from Nicholas and six from Randle in racing to a 19-3 lead. The Dukes went 1-for-4 from the field, missed two of three free throws and committed six turnovers during that span.

By the midpoint of the first half, seven players had scored for the Terrapins, who got six points from freshman Chris McCray in a 10-0 run that made it 30-9.

A dunk by Randle sparked a spurt of eight straight points that put Maryland up 40-14

Game 4 • ACC/Big Ten Challenge

(10/11) Indiana 80, (9/8) Maryland 74 (OT)

INDIANAPOLIS – Indiana needed a third chance to finally beat Maryland.

Eight months after losing to the Terrapins in the national championship game and minutes after having a potential game-winning midcourt heave by Steve Blake waved off, the 10th-ranked Hoosiers beat No. 9 Maryland 80-74 in the ACC-Big Ten Challenge.

For much of the game, it looked like a replay of April's championship. Indiana relied on its outside shooting and struggled. Maryland (3-1) again went with its inside power.

But this time Hoosiers guard Tom Coverdale was healthy. Coverdale, who scored just eight points after being hobbled by a badly sprained left ankle in April, matched his career-high with 30 points in leading the Hoosiers back from a 14-point first-half deficit.

Blake had 22 points for Maryland and Ryan Randle had 20. Blake's most important shot, however, didn't count.

With 7.1 seconds to go, Indiana freshman Sean Kline made one of two free throws to tie the score at 68. Indiana got the rebound and took two shots, but when Coverdale's errant 3-pointer bounced to midcourt, Blake picked it up, heaved it and made the basket as the buzzer sounded.

The three officials immediately went to the scorer's table, viewed a replay, huddled near midcourt with both coaches and then waved the basket off.

After trailing 72-69 with 3:36 to go, Jeff Newton's putback with 2:31 to go gave Indiana a 73-72 lead. Kline followed with a layup and Marshall Strickland hit a 3-pointer to make it 78-74. Kline hit two free throws with 7.4 seconds left to seal the win.

Game 5 • BB&T Classic First Round

Notre Dame 79, (9/8) Maryland 67

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Freshman Torin Francis scored 20 points on 8-for-8 shooting as Notre Dame recorded its second straight upset of a ranked team. The Irish, coming off a 92-71 rout of No. 13 Marquette on Monday, never trailed after taking command late in the first half and defeating Maryland 79-67 in the first round of the BB&T Classic.

Matt Carroll had 19 points and former Terrapin Dan Miller added 17 for the Irish, who led by as many as 18 against the defending champs.

Coming off an overtime loss to Indiana, the Terrapins cut a 10-point halftime deficit to 35-30 in the opening minutes of the second half. But the Irish responded with an 11-4 run to make it 46-34.

After Steve Blake hit a 3-pointer – Maryland's first from beyond the arc after 11 misses – Thomas scored in the lane and Carroll added a short jumper and a 3-pointer for a 53-37 cushion with 11:50 to go.

The Terrapins never got closer than eight, and ultimately fell behind 67-49 with 5:34 remaining.

"After losing four seniors last year, we're still trying to see how we're going to play this year," Williams said. "There is no magic, you have to work hard every year."

Blake scored 15 points for the Terrapins, who lost successive games for the first time since falling to Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Florida State nearly two years ago.

Francis scored 11 of his 14 first-half points in the final six minutes, leading a 16-5 run that put the Irish up 35-25 at halftime. Maryland missed 27 of 38 field-goal attempts and went 0-for-9 from 3-point range. Freshman Nik Caner-Medley, getting his first start for the Terrapins, was the only Maryland player to shoot better than 50 percent.

Miller, despite being booed throughout the half by the pro-Maryland crowd, scored 11 points and was 3-for-5 from beyond the arc.

Game 6 • BB&T Classic Consolation
(9/8) Maryland 93, George Washington 82

WASHINGTON, D.C. – When Gary Williams demanded an emotional performance to end a rare losing streak, Steve Blake and Drew Nicholas delivered.

Blake had career-highs of 27 points and five 3-pointers, and Nicholas added 27 points to lead No. 9 Maryland to a 93-82 victory over George Washington on Sunday in the third-place game of the BB&T Classic.

Blake didn't score until he converted his first 3-pointer with 9:29 left in the first half and the Colonials ahead 31-24. That started a streak of 10 straight points by the senior guard.

"We were struggling a little bit and I wanted to get things going," Blake said. "I told myself there was no way we were going to lose this game. I wanted to make things happen."

The Terrapins (4-2), who were only 4-for-17 on 3-point attempts in an upset loss to Notre Dame on Saturday, were 12-of-17 from beyond the arc against the Colonials (3-3).

Nicholas tied a career-best with five 3s as the defending national champions averted their first three-game losing streak since February 2001.

Chris Monroe led George Washington with 19 points.

The Colonials used runs of 14-5 and 10-2 to take a 29-17 lead with 11:12 left in the half. But after Monroe's two free throws gave GW a 31-19 lead with 10:23 to go, Blake rallied the Terrapins.

Scoreless until that point, Blake had the final 10 points of a 12-0 Maryland run that tied the game at 31. After Thompson's four-point play put the Colonials up 35-31, the Terrapins closed the half by outscoring GW 17-8 as Nicholas, who had 20 first-half points, knocked down three 3-pointers.

Game 7
(14/17) Florida 69, (18/16) Maryland 64

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – It was one of those odd streaks that no one really noticed until it was about a decade old. Now that it's over, Maryland doesn't mind showing some pride over its run of 87 consecutive home non-conference victories.

Anthony Roberson scored 20 points as No. 14 Florida beat No. 18 Maryland 69-64, handing the Terrapins their first home defeat against a team from outside the Atlantic Coast Conference in more than 13 years.

"It was well-earned," Maryland coach Gary Williams said of the streak. "I don't think anybody gave us a game during that time. We beat some ranked teams. We probably played the same December schedule that everybody else played at this level.

"You don't talk about those things; they just kind of happen on their own, but I'm very proud of that streak. Nobody else in the country did it, so to me it wasn't a quirky little streak."

Maryland's last non-conference home defeat was 70-63 to Coppin State on Dec. 12, 1988. The streak, the longest in the nation, began 18 days later with a 110-91 victory over Alcorn State.

The run included 84 straight wins at Cole Field House and three at the Terrapins' new Comcast Center. The loss also ended Maryland's 21-game overall home winning streak.

Roberson went 8-of-14 from the field, including 4-of-7 on 3-point attempts. He was not a starter, but he played a team-high 33 minutes. Matt Bonner added 16 points for Florida (7-2).

Roberson's 3-pointer started a 9-0 run that put the Gators ahead 48-40 with 13:18 left. They kept the lead the rest of the way, with Roberson hitting another 3-pointer to silence the crowd after a timeout, just as the Terrapins had cut the lead to two with three minutes left.

Ryan Randle had 18 points and 10 rebounds to lead Maryland (4-3). The defending national champions lost for the third time in four games, all against teams that are now ranked in the Top 15.

Game 8
(23/22) Maryland 101, UMBC 60

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Coming off a disheartening loss to Florida and having endured the wrath of coach Gary Williams for eight straight days, Maryland desperately needed a reason to feel good. The Terrapins got one, at the expense of Maryland-Baltimore County.

Ryan Randle scored 17 of his career-high 21 points in the second half as No. 23 Maryland returned from a lengthy layoff to defeat UMBC 101-60.

Drew Nicholas had 15 points for Maryland (5-3), playing for the first time since having its 87-game home non-conference winning streak snapped by Florida on Dec. 14. The defending NCAA champions never trailed in improving to 13-0 against UMBC.

"They had a tough week. They had exams, they had me after a loss," Williams said. "I wanted them to enjoy it tonight, and I think they feel good about the way they played."

Maryland led by 17 points at halftime, then pulled away in the second half. Six players scored in double figures, and Steve Blake had nine assists to become only the 23rd player in NCAA history to amass 800 for his career. The senior guard has 806.

After making only two baskets in the first 20 minutes, Randle scored Maryland's first 11 points after halftime to make it 56-28. The 6-foot-9 senior started the run with a three-point play, then added four straight baskets in the lane.

Randle made 10 of 15 shots from the field and had a team-high nine rebounds.

P.J. Hatcher led UMBC (3-4) with 15 points. The Retrievers, who lost their fourth straight, stayed within striking distance for the opening 15 minutes before succumbing to Maryland's superior speed, size and skill.

The Terrapins played without starting center Tahj Holden, who was excused from the game because of a death in the family. He was replaced by freshman Travis Garrison, who had eight points and eight rebounds in his first college start.

The addition of Garrison to a lineup with Nik Caner-Medley gave the Terrapins two freshmen starters for the first time since March 2000. Caner-Medley finished with 11 points and was instrumental in getting Maryland off to a solid start.

The 6-8 forward made the game's first two baskets and scored on a soaring putback dunk to ignite a 10-1 run that put Maryland up 21-11.

Maryland, which captured the ACC regular-season title last year on the way to its first national championship, has won a school-record 13 straight conference games.

B.J. Elder had 19 points and Chris Bosh added 16 for the Yellow Jackets (5-4, 0-1), who have lost 12 of 14 to Maryland since January 1996.

Maryland was clinging to a 52-51 lead before Randle made a follow shot and a dunk in a 6-0 run. Minutes later, Randle hit a 10-foot jumper and Nicholas scored on a drive to make it 69-64 with 5:29 left.

After a Georgia Tech free throw, Nicholas hit a 3-pointer and Randle scored from the baseline to give the Terrapins a nine-point cushion with three minutes remaining.

Maryland outscored Georgia Tech 12-1 at the line in taking a 36-30 halftime lead. The Terrapins trailed 28-25 before Nik Caner-Medley scored five points in a 9-0 run that put Maryland in front.

After the margin reached seven points early in the second half, the Yellow Jackets used a 12-4 run to take a 48-47 lead with 14:54 left.

Playing their first game in eight days, the Yellow Jackets looked more fresh than rusty in the opening minutes. Bosh scored off the glass and then on a drive to cap a 6-0 run that put Georgia Tech up 11-4.

But Nicholas scored seven points and Tahj Holden had five in a 16-6 surge that gave Maryland its first lead, 20-17, midway through the half.

Holden, who missed the Terrapins' last game because of a death in the family, did not start for the first time this season. The senior forward finished with 11 points. Maryland was without senior guard Calvin McCall, who was in street clothes after spraining his left ankle in practice one day earlier.

Game 10

(22/20) Maryland 79, Wagner 57

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Ryan Randle didn't miss a shot, and Steve Blake was virtually flawless in running Maryland's offense.

Randle tied a school record by making all 10 of his field goal attempts, and Blake had 12 assists to move into 20th place on the NCAA career list as the No. 22-ranked Terps beat Wagner 79-57.

Maryland (7-3) was never threatened after the Seahawks missed 12 of their first 14 shots to fall behind 20-4. But the Terrapins know they'll need to play better when they resume play in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"We got off great, and it looked like it would be pretty easy," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "But we reacted to that the wrong way. We really didn't execute as well as we could."

Williams became so irate that at one point in the second half he yanked all five starters.

"(Wagner) scored quite a few points on fastbreak opportunities," Williams said. "It means the other team is outworking you, and we don't get outworked very often."

Randle's 21 points matched his career high, and his perfect shooting performance tied the Maryland record set on Dec. 23, 1998, by Lonny Baxter against North Texas.

"I just wanted to take the ball up to the rack real hard. I had great position," said Randle, who made both his shots in the first half before scoring 17 points after the break.

Drew Nicholas scored 11 of his 13 points in the first half for the defending national champions, who won their third straight game. But Nicholas was 5-for-12 from the field and Blake was 1-for-4.

Blake, a senior guard, moved past former Michigan State star Mateen Cleaves on the NCAA career list with 826 assists. Blake did not commit a turnover.

Jermaine Hall scored 26 points for the Seahawks (4-6), who went 4-for-22 from 3-point range, shot 32 percent overall and committed 19 turnovers.

Soon after Williams pulled his starting lineup, freshman Chris McCray delighted the crowd by scoring five straight points to put Maryland up 61-38 with 10:32 remaining.

The Terrapins limited Wagner to 24 percent shooting and forced 11 turnovers in taking a 40-21 halftime lead.

Game 11

(21/17) Maryland 108, Hampton 58

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Ryan Randle had 16 points and 12 rebounds, and Drew Nicholas scored 17 points as No. 21 Maryland breezed past Hampton 108-58.

Reserve Jamar Smith also scored 17 and Steve Blake had 13 points and eight assists for the Terrapins (7-3), who never trailed in extending their winning streak to four games.

Randle made his first three shots, stretching his run without a miss to a school-record 16 straight (including 10-for-10 Saturday against Wagner). Randle broke the previous mark of 15 successive field goals, set by Greg Manning over two games in 1981.

Barry Hairston scored 18 points for Hampton (6-4).

Maryland opened the second half with three straight baskets for a 60-31 lead. After the Pirates used a 7-0 run to close to 62-40, Randle scored six points in a 20-3 spree that made it 82-43.

The Terrapins reached the 100-point mark for the second time this season with 3:25 remaining.

Blake and Nicholas both scored 11 points and Randle added 10 to stake the Terrapins to a 54-31 halftime lead.

Maryland made its first five shots, including two dunks and soft jumper by Randle, in racing to a 12-0 lead. The Pirates were 0-for-5 with three turnovers during the span.

Hairston broke the spell with a 14-footer, but the Pirates missed their next seven shots to fall behind 24-4. Maryland, meanwhile, went 11-for-14 from the field over the opening nine minutes.

Game 12

(21/17) Maryland 89, Florida State 62

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Drew Nicholas scored 23 points, and No. 21 Maryland built an 18-0 lead against Florida State before coasting to its fifth straight victory, 89-62.

Reserve Tahj Holden had 12 points for the Terrapins, who extended their school-record run of ACC victories to 14.

Maryland is 14-1 against Florida State since January 1997.

Tim Pickett scored 15 points and Anthony Richardson had 14 (13 in the second half) for the Seminoles, who offered little resistance after falling behind 46-26 at halftime.

Maryland gained control at the outset, making its first six shots. The defending NCAA champions hit four 3-pointers during the opening run, including two straight by Steve Blake.

Playing against a team that had held foes to 35 percent shooting – best in the ACC – Maryland went 9-for-11 in going up 25-5.

The Terrapins' defense was just as impressive, forcing turnovers on each of the Seminoles' first three possessions. Florida State had five turnovers and missed eight shots before Michael Joiner ended the drought with a putback.

But the Seminoles couldn't build any momentum. An alley-oop dunk by Nik Caner-Medley and two baskets by Holden made it 31-7 with 11 minutes elapsed.

Florida State cut the gap to 18 before Nicholas scored five points in a 9-0 burst that put Maryland ahead 44-17.

It was 55-36 early in the second half before backup guard Calvin McCall scored seven points in a 13-0 run by Maryland that made it 68-36. McCall's 10 points made him one of four Terrapins to reach double figures.Maryland played without reserve forward Jamar Smith, who was absent because of a death in the family.

Game 13

[19/20] Wake Forest 81, [17/15] Maryland 72

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. – Maryland's fastbreak comeback wasn't quick enough. Wake Forest's frontcourt dominated on both ends to withstand a furious late charge for an 81-72 victory at Lawrence Joel Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

The loss snapped No. 17 Maryland's (9-4) five-game winning streak. The Terps' team-record 14-game ACC winning streak and seven straight victories over the No. 19 Demon Deacons (11-1) also ended.

Maryland used its aggressive man defense to offset a poor night underneath. Maryland scored nine straight points, largely fueled by its defense, to close within 66-64 with 4:56 remaining. Wake Forest countered with two baskets underneath before Steve Blake followed with two free throws with 3:43 remaining to close within 70-66.

Wake Forest then broke Maryland's press on center Eric Williams' dunk for a six-point lead before Blake again drained two more free throws. Forward Tahj Holden soon added a 3-pointer to close to 73-71 with 2:43 left. Wake Forest forward Vytas Danelius countered with two free throws with 1:40 remaining for a four-point margin and Maryland followed with a turnover.

The Terps were outmuscled underneath regularly as the Demon Deacons prevented Maryland from getting easy points underneath or spark its transition offense. The hosts simply sealed the lanes.

Maryland's comeback attempts were often fueled by outside shooting and tenacious man defense. However, the low-percentage shots were offset by Wake Forest dominating inside.

After three straight blowouts the Terps came out unsettled. Maryland was sluggish for the first 10 minutes and trailed 13-6 after a 7-0 Wake Forest run. The Terps kept searching for a mismatch at small forward and liberally subsituted before Calvin McCall emerged midway through the opening half.

McCall scored eight first-half points, including six straight and Maryland twice came within four. McCall had to leave momentarily with 1:03 left after his left cheek was cut.

Game 14

[17/15] Maryland 87, [1/1] Duke 72

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Cole Field House and Comcast Center are across campus from each other. Maryland found a bridge between its old and new buildings: beating No. 1 Duke.

The 17th-ranked Terrapins beat the last undefeated team in the country, downing the top-ranked Blue Devils 87-72.

It was the second straight year Maryland prevailed at home when Duke was No. 1, and it came in the new arena that sounded a lot like the old one when the final buzzer sounded and the students rushed the floor.

"This crowd was as good as any crowd we've had since I've been here at Maryland," said Gary Williams, who has been coaching at his alma mater since 1989.

Cole, which opened in 1955 and had a capacity of 14,500, was the place where Maryland beat six No. 1 teams. The 17,950-seat Comcast Center, which opened in November, got its first taste of the Terrapins beating a top-ranked team.

Drew Nicholas had 24 points for the Terrapins (10-4, 3-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) and Ryan Randle had 15 points and a career-high 17 rebounds as Maryland finished with a 43-32 advantage on the boards.

"I took it personally. Today we came out and said don't worry about points, just get every rebound," Randle said. "Beating a Top 20 team is what we wanted and needed. Beating Duke is a big confidence-builder."

The defending national champions also stood out at the free throw line, finishing 29-for-31. Duke (12-1, 3-1) was 9-for-20, including 5-for-13 in the second half.

"Maryland played like a veteran team and we played like a young team," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said. "They just played better than we did. They deserved to win. They played harder and better."

Maryland scored the first six points of the second half to tie the game at 43 and then turned up the defense.

Dahntay Jones, who had a career-high 26 points for Duke, hit a 3-pointer with 14:21 to play that tied it for the last time at 53.

The Terrapins went on a 10-0 run with all the points coming from newcomers John Gilchrist and Jamar Smith. The Blue Devils went 5:55 without a field goal, missing six shots and committing three turnovers in that span as Maryland went up 75-60.

Duke, which shot 33 percent (11-for-33) in the second half after shooting 51 percent in the opening half, never got back in it.

Tahj Holden added 10 points for the Terrapins, who took care of the ball in the second half, committing three turnovers for a total of 16.

Freshman J.J. Redick, Duke's leading scorer, had 13 points, two in the second half. The Blue Devils entered the game shooting 38.1 percent from 3-point range but were 7-for-22, 2-for-13 in the second half.

The win was Maryland's biggest in the series since a 77-60 victory at home on Feb. 6, 1982.

Game 15

[12/11] Maryland 81, North Carolina 66

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – Maryland's five senior starters had 456 college games and a national championship among them coming into Wednesday night's game. That experience showed against a young North Carolina team.

Drew Nicholas scored 20 points and Steve Blake added 17 as the 12th-ranked Terrapins beat the Tar Heels 81-66, their first conference road win.

Ryan Randle added 16 points and 10 rebounds for the Terrapins (11-4, 4-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who won for the third straight time in the series. The defending NCAA champions beat the Tar Heels twice last season by an average of 24 points.

The Terrapins handled the Tar Heels (11-6, 2-2) by dominating inside, controlling the glass and playing aggressive man-to-man defense. They outscored the Tar Heels 42-20 in the paint and had a 45-35 rebound advantage.

They held the Tar Heels to 35 percent shooting and blocked nine shots to avoid any letdown after upsetting then-No. 1 Duke the previous Saturday.

"We looked at this as our next big test," Nicholas said. "Obviously our test last week was to beat the No. 1 team in the country. Now we came in here with the focus of getting a road win. We were able to do that, and now we just have to keep pushing."

Both teams came into the game with plenty of momentum, with the Tar Heels upsetting then-No. 6 Connecticut 68-65 at the Smith Center five days earlier.

But Maryland used two first-half runs to take a double-digit lead and answered several spurts by the Tar Heels in the second half with momentum-killing baskets.

Rashad McCants scored 26 points to lead North Carolina, which started three freshmen and two sophomores, while Jawad Williams added 18.

Maryland used 16-2 and 11-0 runs in the first half to take a 37-20 lead. The Tar Heels rallied, scoring the last seven points of the half to pull to 39-31. Raymond Felton continued the run in the second half, hitting his first four shots after going 1-for-8 in the first half.

His 3-pointer from the right wing pulled North Carolina within 41-39 with 17:04 left, ending a 19-4 run spanning halftime.

But the Terrapins took advantage of their size inside, going on a 14-2 run. Maryland scored 12 points in the paint, the first four coming on drives from reserve John Gilchrist. Randle added a jumper in the lane and a tip-in.

The Terrapins also controlled the glass, taking a 10-2 edge during the spurt as the Tar Heels missed eight of nine shots.

Twice the Tar Heels closed within 10 points only to see Maryland answer with 3s on its next possessions. They pulled to within 61-53 on a dunk by Williams, but the Terrapins got an inside basket from Tahj Holden and a layup from Randle to kill the rally.

Game 16

(12/11) Maryland 52, Clemson 47

CLEMSON, S.C. – Maryland's Drew Nicholas wasn't too concerned with how bad the 12th-ranked Terps looked, only that they left Littlejohn Coliseum with a victory.

"I'm sure it was a tough game to watch. This wasn't a very pretty basketball game," said Nicholas, who scored 14 points on 4-of-13 shooting in Maryland's 52-47 victory over Clemson.

"It was good enough to win," Nicholas said. "At the end of the day, there's going to be another win in the ACC column for us."

The Terps (12-4, 5-1) came in leading the Atlantic Coast Conference in 3-point shooting and were second overall in field-goal percentage. However, they struggled throughout in this one and shot just 19-of-56 (.339) – their worst performance of the season. Still, they won for the sixth time in seven games and held on to first place in the conference.

However, only one of them was the defending national champion who could call on five senior starters to shrug off problems and get the job done.

It almost took the Terps too long.

Their sloppy performance kept Clemson (11-4, 1-4) around until the final minute. Edward Scott, who led the Tigers with 16 points, made four foul shots to get Clemson within three at 50-47 with 1:08 remaining. However, Scott missed a wide-open 3-pointer that would have tied it and Steve Blake hit two foul shots to seal the win.

The Terrapins missed their first eight attempts and first six from 3-point range. Nicholas was 0-for-4 as Maryland fell behind 21-9 with 5:18 left in the first half.

Then the Terps turned up their defense and Nicholas finally found his stroke to close the half with a 15-2 run. Nicholas had two 3-pointers and an inside basket – all following Clemson turnovers – during the rally as the Terps went up 24-23.

Calvin McCall and Blake had back-to-back 3s to extend the lead to 33-27. When Nicholas made two foul shots and a short jumper, Maryland led 46-37 with 5:30 remaining.

The Tigers made only four field goals in the second half, going over eight minutes between field goals during one stretch. Scott was just 1-of-6 from beyond the arc. Olu Babalola, who was 5-of-8, was Clemson's only player who shot better than 50 percent. He had 12 points and seven rebounds.

Game 17

(10/9) Maryland 75, NC State 60

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – As he walked into the locker room at halftime, Maryland senior Drew Nicholas had mixed emotions.

The Terrapins' leading scorer was down on himself for being blanked, yet he had reason to be optimistic because No. 10 Maryland trailed North Carolina State by only 28-27.

"Down by a point with the way I'd been playing, I felt pretty good," he said. "I knew I was going to get myself going."

Nicholas hit two straight 3-pointers during a 14-0 second-half run, and Steve Blake scored 20 points as Maryland pulled away to a 75-60 victory.

Nicholas scored all 13 of his points after halftime as the defending NCAA champions solidified their hold on first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with their 14th straight home win over the Wolfpack.

"We've established ourselves as the top team in the ACC," Blake said. "Now we need to work to stay there. We have to keep getting better."

Maryland (13-4, 6-1) was clinging to 43-41 lead before finally busting loose. Tahj Holden started the 14-point run with two free throws, and Nicholas followed with successive shots from long range.

Nik Caner-Medley then made a layup, and four free throws made it 57-41 with 10 minutes left.

Marcus Melvin had 15 points and Julius Hodge 14 for N.C. State (11-5, 4-2), which missed a chance to extend its winning streak to four and move into first place in the ACC.

After committing six turnovers during Maryland's 14-point run, the Wolfpack battled back. A 10-0 run made it 60-54 with 5:20 to go, but two free throws by Blake and a basket by Caner-Medley quelled the comeback.

Blake went 7-for-10 from the field, made all four of his 3-pointers and had seven assists. Nicholas went 4-for-7 after halftime, including 3-for-5 from beyond the arc.

"Drew and Steve were terrific in the second half. They're a great backcourt together," Maryland coach Gary Williams said.

The Wolfpack scored the game's first five points and led 15-10 before reserve forward Jamar Smith scored in the lane and Blake hit a jumper during a 6-0 run that gave Maryland its first lead.

Game 18

(10/9) Maryland 85, Loyola 58

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Maryland took a break from the rigors of Atlantic Coast Conference play with a non-league game against a struggling opponent, and although the 10th-ranked Terrapins were never tested during an 85-58 rout of Loyola (Md.), the endeavor was certainly better than the alternative.

"This was a good game for us. Instead of practicing from Thursday to Thursday, we were able to play this game today. That helps us instead of going after each other every day," Maryland coach Gary Williams said.

Drew Nicholas scored eight of his 15 points during Maryland's game-opening 14-0 run, and the Terrapins led by as many as 30 points in cruising to their fifth straight victory.

Ryan Randle scored 17 points and Steve Blake had 10 assists for the Terrapins (14-4), who stretched their home winning streak to eight with their eighth straight win over Loyola.

It was the final non-conference matchup of the regular season for the defending NCAA champions, who went 8-3 outside the ACC.

Most importantly, the Terrapins got another win before ending the regular season with a run of nine straight ACC games.

Bernard Allen led Loyola (4-15) with 16 points. The Greyhounds, who committed 27 turnovers, have lost four in a row and eight of nine.

Coming off an impressive 75-60 win over NC State, Maryland dispelled any possibility of a letdown with a torrid start. Tahj Holden scored off an offensive rebound and Nicholas followed with eight straight points, including two 3-pointers to make it 10-0.

Holden then made a layup and Randle followed with a reverse layup before Delonnie Southall scored the Greyhounds' initial points on a layup with 15:12 left in the half.

It was 36-21 before a layup by Randle sparked a 12-2 spree that put Maryland up by 25. Sophomore Andre Collins fueled the run with two straight 3-pointers, his only points of the game.

Game 19

Virginia 86, (8/8) Maryland 78

COLLEGE PARK, Md. –Reserve Devin Smith scored 17 points and keyed a 16-0 second-half run as Virginia erased a 12-point deficit and stunned No. 8 Maryland, 86-78.

Down 65-53 with 12:50 remaining, the Cavaliers appeared headed to their 10th straight defeat at Maryland. But Smith sparked the improbable comeback, twice hitting successive 3-pointers to spark Virginia to its first Atlantic Coast Conference road win of the season.

Travis Watson had 15 points and 10 rebounds for the Cavaliers (13-7, 4-4).

Ryan Randle scored 17 for the Terrapins (14-5, 6-2), whose five-game winning streak ended in surprise fashion. The defending NCAA champions had won 14 straight ACC home games and were unbeaten at home against Virginia since 1993. Drew Nicholas and Steve Blake became the 38th and 39th players in Maryland history to surpass 1,000 career points. Nicholas scored 20 for a 1,007 total and Blake had 12 for 1,001 points.

The Cavaliers trailed by 12 before Smith hit two straight from beyond the arc. Maryland then went up by 10 before Virginia began its decisive run.

Watson scored inside and Smith hit two straight 3-pointers before Jermaine Harper put the Cavaliers up for good with a 3. Elton Brown then made a layup, and Harper capped the burst with a 3-pointer to make it 75-69 with 3:56 to go.

Down 49-47 at halftime, the Terrapins used the inside play of Randle to regain the lead. The senior center scored on a follow, then made a layup before Tahj Holden scored on a tip-in. Randle capped the 8-0 spurt with a jumper in the lane to put Maryland up by six.

After going 16-for-29 from the field before halftime, Virginia missed its first five shots of the second half. After Smith ended the drought, Randle answered with a layup and Nicholas made a three-point play to make it 58-49.

Minutes later, Blake reached the 1,000-point plateau with a 3-pointer and Holden followed with a driving layup for a 65-53 lead.

Virginia played well early, getting four points apiece from Watson and Jason Clark in a 14-5 run that made it 17-11. Minutes later, the Cavaliers reeled off 10 straight points to go up 28-16.

Maryland coach Gary Williams called a timeout in the midst of the run, seeking to settle a defense that permitted Virginia to make 10 of its first 14 shots.

But the trend continued when Smith hit a 3-pointer to make it 33-20. Maryland then went on a 17-2 run to temporarily regain the lead. Nicholas capped the surge with a 3-pointer, giving him exactly 1,000 points for his career.

Game 20
Georgia Tech 90, (8/8) Maryland 84

ATLANTA, Ga. – Jarrett Jack banked in a crucial 3-pointer with 39 seconds remaining and Georgia Tech handed No. 8 Maryland its second straight loss, beating the Terrapins 90-84.

Jack, a freshman point guard, scored a career-high 20 points and ran an offense that became the first this season to reach 90 points against Maryland's high-intensity defense.

The Terrapins (14-8, 6-3 ACC) lost for the second straight game, coming on the heels of an 86-78 defeat at home to Virginia.

Georgia Tech (12-8, 5-4) continued its Jekyll-and-Hyde season by improving to 11-0 at Alexander Coliseum. The Yellow Jackets have yet to win a road game, picking up their other win at a neutral site.

B.J. Elder led Georgia Tech with 23 points, including two key baskets that stemmed Maryland runs in the second half.

Georgia Tech took command with a 14-0 run in the first half and stretched the margin to as many as 13 points before Maryland began chipping away. The Terrapins closed to 82-80 on a 3-pointer by Drew Nicholas with 1:12 remaining. Nicholas finished with a team-high 18 points.

With the shot clock running down, Jack banked in a straightaway 3-pointer to give the Yellow Jackets some breathing room. The freshman, whose previous high was 16 points, added a free throw with 25 seconds left and Anthony McHenry finished off the Terps with a slam.

The latest player in Georgia Tech's proud point guard tradition sparked the 14-0 run with his best basket of the game. Jack flipped in a shot high off the backboard, despite getting knocked to the floor by Travis Garrison, and made the free throw for a three-point play that tied the game at 22.

Game 21
(16/15) Maryland 74, Florida State 72

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – Maryland coach Gary Williams loves having a senior point guard on the court in close road games. Steve Blake, scored Maryland's final seven points, including four free throws in the final 17.5 seconds, as the 18th-ranked Terrapins rebounded from two straight losses with a 74-72 victory at Florida State.

"There is no one better when the game gets tough," Williams said. "When the game is on the line, he's there for us."

Blake, who finished with 15 points, made a 3-pointer from the corner to break a 67-67 tie with 2:38 left and then clinched the win with his clutch free throws.

"I wanted to shoot those free throws," Blake said. "I'd rather have the blame on me if we missed."

Maryland (15-6, 7-3 ACC) was leading the league until successive losses last week to Virginia and Georgia Tech.

"After the last two games, our confidence was not good," Williams said. "This was a big win for the rest of the season."

The Terps, who trail ACC leader Wake Forest by a game in the loss column, shot just 38.3 percent from the field, but hit 20 of 23 free throws.

Florida State (11-10, 2-8 ACC) got within a point at 70-69 on Todd Galloway's layup with 17.5 seconds left and Blake was fouled on the inbounds pass before any time could go off the clock.

Blake hit both free throws for a 72-69 lead and was fouled again with 4.9 seconds remaining after a missed Florida State shot. He again hit both tries as Maryland went ahead 74-69.

Game 22
(13/13) Maryland 90, (10/11) Wake Forest 67

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – A strange afternoon worked out perfectly for No. 13 Maryland, which stormed past 10th-ranked Wake Forest to take over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Steve Blake had 21 points and nine assists, and Drew Nicholas scored 19 as the Terrapins handed the Demon Deacons their most lopsided loss of the season, 90-67, in a game delayed by a day because of a blizzard.

Fearing that most fans would be unable to attend the game because of a storm that dumped more than two feet of snow in the area, Maryland athletic director Debbie Yow spent much of the morning trying to push the game back to next month.

But the Terrapins were eager to get on the court and avenge an 81-72 loss at Wake Forest last month.

Ryan Randle had 13 points and 13 rebounds for Maryland (16-6, 8-3), which wrestled away the top spot in the ACC from Wake Forest (17-4, 7-3) in convincing fashion.

Wake Forest, which led the nation in rebounding differential (plus 12.5), was outrebounded for the first time this season, 44-24.

The defending NCAA champions have won seven of eight overall against the Demon Deacons and five straight at home.

The Demon Deacons were hoping to build on Thursday's double-overtime victory over Duke. But after cutting a 17-point deficit to six in the second half, Wake Forest made only one basket in the final 10 minutes.

The Comcast Center - which seats 17,950 - was nearly filled, even though the game was hastily rescheduled from Sunday night. The starting time of 5 p.m. was not announced until well after noon on Monday.

It turned out to be a lost three-day weekend for the Demon Deacons, who beat the snow but were stuck in their College Park hotel waiting to learn if the first-place showdown would take place.

Up by 10 at halftime, Maryland used a 3-pointer by Tahj Holden and baskets by Randle and McCall at the outset of the second half to make it 48-31.

Game 23
(8/8) Duke 75, (13/13) Maryland 70

DURHAM, N.C. – Dahntay Jones scored 21 points and J.J. Redick added 17 as the eighth-ranked Blue Devils ran their winning streak in Cameron Indoor Stadium to 26 straight with a 75-70 victory over No. 13 Maryland.

After a rough few weeks, Duke (18-4, 8-4) is tied with the defending national champion Terrapins (16-7, 8-4) for second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with four league games remaining.

The Terrapins beat Duke 87-72 on Jan. 18 by dominating the second half. But this time around it was the Blue Devils who closed the deal in the final minutes after leading 37-33 at halftime.

Steve Blake missed a contested 3-pointer with 2 seconds left that could have tied it for the Terrapins, but he threw up an air ball and Redick closed it out with two free throws.

Shelden Williams also came up big for the Blue Devils. The freshmen had three points in 13 minutes in the first meeting between the last two national champs, but Williams showed Maryland's experienced big men early that he had matured. He finished with 13 points, 11 rebounds and six of Duke's season-high 13 blocked shots.

Tahj Holden led Maryland with a career-high 18 points, but Drew Nicholas, who scored 24 against Duke a month ago, was held to eight.

Each team started slowly in the second half before Duke went up 67-57 with 5:49 left as Redick made two long 3-pointers and Jones had a three-point play in a span of 1:47.

But the only team with a winning ACC road record coming in would make one last stand, pulling within two with 3:18 remaining. Jones then made two free throws and Daniel Ewing nailed a 3-pointer with 2 seconds left on the shot clock to give Duke a 73-66 lead.

Duke was guarding a three-point lead in the final 45 seconds and tried to run the clock down, but Ewing lost it in the lane, setting up Blake's final shot that came up short.

Game 24

(13/13) Maryland 96, North Carolina 56

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Beating North Carolina is no longer a big deal for Maryland.

The defending NCAA champion Terrapins are now among the nation's elite, while the once-mighty Tar Heels are in the midst of a major rebuilding effort.

Yet, given the events leading up to this ACC game, it was almost impossible to envision a blowout of record-breaking proportions.

Steve Blake scored 18 points and Drew Nicholas had 17 as No. 13 Maryland concluded a demanding week by crushing North Carolina 96-56, the second-most lopsided ACC victory in school history.

Ryan Randle scored 16 points for the Terrapins, who have won four straight against North Carolina for the first time since 1930-32. It was Maryland's largest margin of victory in the 79-year series, eclipsing the 33-point blowout the Terps enjoyed at home last season.

The most surprising aspect of the rout was that it was Maryland's third game in six days. The Terrapins (17-7, 9-4) beat No. 10 Wake Forest at home Monday in a game delayed by snow, then lost on the road against No. 8 Duke on Wednesday before rebounding to beat the Tar Heels (14-12, 4-8) for the fifth time in seven tries.

North Carolina's arrival at the Comcast Center was delayed by a torrential rain, but coach Matt Doherty said that had nothing to do with the resounding defeat, which matched the third-worst in UNC history.

Maryland had previously recorded two 40-point wins in ACC play, the last one a 99-59 rout of South Carolina in 1958. The victory moved the Terrapins within percentage points of first-place Wake Forest in the ACC.

Maryland let a 13-point halftime lead dwindle to 47-40 before Blake scored seven points in a 13-2 run that gave the Terrapins some breathing room.

After the Tar Heels closed to 62-47, freshman John Gilchrist hit a runner in the lane, Jamar Smith slammed home an alley-oop pass from Calvin McCall, and Andre Collins and Randle made layups to start a 14-0 spurt that put the Terrapins up by 29.

Melvin Scott scored 12 points and Rashad McCants had 11 for North Carolina, 1-6 on the road in the conference this season.

Game 25

(14/14) Maryland 91, Clemson 52

COLLEGE PARK, Md. –Maryland capped its first season in the Comcast Center with its best shooting performance of the year.

The 14th-ranked Terrapins pulled away from a five-point halftime lead to a 91-52 victory over Clemson in their final home game of the season.

Ryan Randle scored 18 points, Steve Blake added 14 and Drew Nicholas and Jamar Smith each had 13 for the Terrapins (18-7, 10-4 Atlantic Coast Conference), who have won four of five overall and beaten Clemson 11 straight times.

The defending national champions shot a season-best 63 percent from the field and took possession of second place in the ACC, percentage points behind No. 12 Wake Forest and one-half game ahead of No. 6 Duke.

Sharrod Ford had 12 points and 11 rebounds and Edward Scott added 11 points for the Tigers (15-9, 5-8), who tied a season low by shooting 31 percent and saw a three-game winning streak halted.

Maryland opened the second half with a 27-4 run to pull away from the five-point lead.

The Terrapins were 12-of-20 from 3-point range and moved Williams within one victory of 500 for his career. The Terrapins finished their inaugural season at Comcast Center with a 14-2 record.

Coming off a 96-56 home rout of North Carolina on Saturday, Maryland recorded its largest margin of victory over Clemson since a 40-point win on Dec. 4, 1953. The Terrapins also whipped conference-leading Wake Forest at home on Feb. 17 and lost a road game to Duke two days later.

Randle had 10 points in the first half and Maryland used a 21-4 run in taking a 36-31 halftime lead.

Clemson, leading the ACC in field goal percentage, started 5-for-22 and had only one field goal in a 10:27 span midway through the first half.

The Tigers took an 11-9 lead with 15:05 left in the half, but Blake's long 3-pointer started the Terrapins' big run. Smith scored eight points during the burst, including a dunk off a baseline bounce pass from Blake.

But Blake and Randle dominated the opening minutes of the second half, when Maryland quickly opened a 45-39 lead with a 13-2 run. Randle scored on two jams - one off an outlet pass from Nicholas - and Blake made three 3-pointers.

Blake's 3s started a streak of six consecutive by the Terrapins, who hit eight of their first 10 shots from the field in the second half.

Game 26

(14/14) Maryland 68, NC State 65

RALEIGH, N.C. –All the Maryland players could do was laugh after making coach Gary Williams sweat out career victory No. 500.

Drew Nicholas hit a 3-pointer with 1.5 seconds left to give Williams his milestone win and No. 14 Maryland a 68-65 victory over North Carolina State.

"We wanted to make it close and make him sweat a lot more than normal," said Tahj Holden, who scored a career-high 20 points.

Nicholas added 17 points as Maryland beat the Wolfpack for the ninth time in the last 10 meetings in Raleigh.

Wolfpack coach Herb Sendek said several of his players had been battling the flu all week, including leading scorer Julius Hodge, who was held to 12 points on 2-for-8 shooting.

Nicholas and Steve Blake were quiet most of the night until the final stages as Maryland shot 52 percent in the second half.

Blake's only two points tied the score at 63 with 2:14 left and Nicholas was mobbed by his teammates after his winning shot over Scooter Sherrill, who led NC State with 14 points.

The Wolfpack (15-10, 8-8) tied it with 15 seconds left on a 12-footer by Marcus Melvin and then called a timeout. That allowed Maryland to set up a final play.

Game 27
Virginia 80, (13/12) Maryland 78 (OT)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. –Travis Watson had 26 points and 15 rebounds in what may have been his last home game at Virginia and the Cavaliers stunned No. 13 Maryland 80-78 in overtime.

Virginia (15-14, 6-10 Atlantic Coast Conference) snapped a seven-game losing streak in dramatic fashion, and swept the Terrapins to avoid playing in the play-in game at the ACC tournament.

Maryland (19-8, 11-5) had a chance to tie with 3.7 seconds left, but Steve Blake's desperate heave from the corner was off the mark and Ryan Randle's rebound and putback bounced on the rim before dropping off.

Drew Nicholas had 27 points for Maryland, which clinched the second seed in the ACC tournament despite the loss because Duke lost earlier in the day to North Carolina.

Virginia took a five-point lead in overtime before Jamar Smith hit a free throw for Maryland and Blake hit a 3-pointer, only his second field goal of the game, to pull the Terrapins within 79-78 with 1:16 remaining.

After both teams missed, Elton Brown missed two free throws for Virginia with 18.9 seconds left, but Drew Nicholas' 3-pointer rimmed out and Watson's 15th rebound put him on the line for two shots.

He missed the first, but made the second. The Terps then threw the ball the length of the court, where Blake gathered it and flung it toward the hoop. Randle was there, but his putback didn't fall.

The Terrapins used a 15-8 run to pull even at 66-all with 3:54 to play. Watson then hit four free throws around two by Tahj Holden for the Terps, and Blake made his first basket of the game a dramatic one - a 3-pointer that gave the Terrapins a 71-70 with 1:26 remaining.

Todd Billet, who had 18 points, answered with his sixth 3-pointer and fourth of the half to give the Cavaliers a two-point lead, but Randle took a feed from Blake under the basket for a game-tying dunk with 29.2 seconds left.

2003 ACC Tournament

Game 28 • ACC First Round
First Round
North Carolina 84, (14/15) Maryland 72

GREENSBORO, N.C. – North Carolina didn't want to think about its last meeting with Maryland, when a 40-point victory by the Terrapins saddled the Tar Heels with their worst conference loss in history.

In the back of their minds, the sting from that defeat Feb. 22 never went away.

But the Tar Heels eased much of the pain by bouncing the defending national champions out of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament with an 84-72 victory in the quarterfinals.

Jawad Williams scored a career-high 25 points, Raymond Felton had 20 points and 10 assists and Melvin Scott added a career-high 19 points to lead the seventh-seeded Tar Heels (17-14).

North Carolina, which trailed almost the entire first half, came out swinging in the final 20 minutes.

Playing without Jackie Manuel, their best defender, who went out four minutes into the game with a strained right arch, the Tar Heels were able to stifle Nicholas while opening up their offense. Nicholas, who had 15 points at halftime on 6-of-10 shooting, couldn't shake Scott in the second half.

He didn't score for almost 10 minutes while Maryland suffered from turnovers, sloppy passes and poor shooting.

Nicholas finished with just three points in the second half, and wound up 7-of-14 from the floor.

Carolina jumped all over Maryland's mistakes, and Scott was solid from long range. He made three 3-pointers in a furious 20-7 run.

The Tar Heels trailed 48-43 before the run. But Scott's fifth 3-pointer put North Carolina up 63-55 with 8:09 to play.

The Terrapins were able to make it close after Tahj Holden's layup and Steve Blake's 3-pointer cut it to 68-61, but North Carolina wouldn't roll over.

2003 NCAA Tournament

Game 29 • NCAA First Round
(17/17) Maryland 75, UNC Wilmington 73

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Drew Nicholas wasn't supposed to have the ball. Good thing the intended play didn't work out.

Nicholas dribbled nearly the length of the court and swished a desperation 3-pointer as the horn sounded, giving defending national champion Maryland an improbable 75-73 victory over North Carolina-Wilmington at the NCAA South Regional.

The sixth-seeded Terrapins (20-9) wanted Steve Blake to have the ball on the final play, but UNC-Wilmington's swarming defense kept him from getting it.

So Nicholas got the inbounds pass and took off up the right side of the court. With less than a second remaining, he managed to launch a fallaway 3 off his back foot with Anthony Terrell right in his face.

"I took the ball as far as I could and tried to make something happen," Nicholas said. "I know the shot probably didn't look the prettiest, but it went in. I really couldn't believe it when it went through."

Neither could UNC Wilmington coach Brad Brownell, who collapsed to the court in disbelief.

"We did everything we could," he said. "Give credit to Drew Nicholas. He made the game-winner."

Aaron Coombs sank two free throws with 5 seconds left, giving the 11th-seeded Seahawks a 73-72 lead and putting them in position to pull off a tourney surprise for the second year in a row.

After Nicholas' shot, several Maryland players raced off the court in delirium, while the Seahawks stood around in a daze.

The officials called everyone back to look at the video replay. It clearly showed that Nicholas got the shot off with a 0.5 seconds to spare, giving Maryland a chance to celebrate again.

UNC Wilmington freshman John Goldsberry nearly stole the show. He set a tournament record by going 8-of-8 from outside the 3-point arc, finishing with a career-high 26 points. He broke the 7-of-7 mark set by Florida State's Sam Cassell in 1993.

Nicholas scored 22 points, including 5-of-8 from outside the arc.

Drew Nicholas hit "The Shot" to beat UNC Wilmington in the NCAA First Round.

Game 30 • NCAA Second Round

[17/17] Maryland 77, Xavier 64

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – No need to beat the buzzer this time. Maryland is off on another run in the NCAA tournament.

The defending national champion Terrapins, who got a game-winning 3-pointer from Drew Nicholas in the most exciting finish of the first round, shut down David West early and beat Xavier 77-64 to reach the round of 16 for the third straight year.

"That shot gave us a lot of confidence coming into this game," Maryland coach Gary Williams said. "But this was a totally different game, and we were playing great defense and turning it into offense."

Steve Blake, the most experienced player in the tournament, had nine points and nine assists as the Terrapins (21-9) shot 51.7 percent (30-of-58) from the floor.

West, the three-time Atlantic 10 player of the year, finished with 22 points and nine rebounds for No. 3 seed Xavier (26-6), but most of it came way too late.

Just making the NCAA tournament was the challenge Williams gave his Terrapins this season after losing four starters - including Lonny Baxter, Juan Dixon and Chris Wilcox - from last year's championship squad.

The Terps came in with their lowest seed since a No. 7 in 1996. Now, they're in the round of 16 for the 13th time.

The Musketeers scored the first five points, but Maryland answered with a 19-4 run and led by as many as 20 points in the first half. Then Xavier almost made it interesting as West, held to 2-of-8 shooting in the first half, got going in the second.

The Musketeers kept whittling away as West either shot or passed off to teammates. Romain Sato hit the first of two free throws at 6:06 to get Xavier to 60-57. That was as close as they got.

Game 31 • NCAA Sweet Sixteen

Michigan State 60, [17/17] Maryland 58

SAN ANTONIO - Once again, Maryland got a last-second chance to hang onto its national title. But when Steve Blake missed at the buzzer, the Terrapins' reign was over.

Freshman Paul Davis hit a leaning bank shot with 4.7 seconds left and Michigan State defeated the defending champions 60-58 to advance to the South Regional final.

Davis' powerful dunk tied it with 50.6 seconds left, and he put the Spartans ahead when he muscled along the baseline for the go-ahead basket.

Blake then took the inbounds pass and dribbled up the floor to the top of the key for a 3-point try. He had an open shot, but the ball hit the back iron and bounced away.

Davis had a team-high 13 points to put Michigan State (22-12) a win away from its third Final Four in four years, an incredible feat for a team that was 14-11 on Feb. 23.

The Terps (21-10) were the only team that made the Final Four the last two years - and the only one to even make the regional finals both times.

Michigan State was in control nearly the entire game, leading by 10 in the opening minutes and holding Maryland to 24 points in the first half, matching its lowest 20 minutes of the season.

Even when the Terps tied it at 32 early in the second half, the Spartans responded with a 15-2 run. Michigan State's lead was 52-39 with 8:07 left when the Terps made their move again.

Using a full-court press against a Spartans squad lacking a true point guard, Maryland scored 16 of the game's next 18 points to go ahead 55-54 on Blake's layup.

The lead was 58-56 when Tahj Holden made one of two free throws with 1:30 left, before Davis went flying at the rim for a two-handed jam that knotted the game at 56.

Maryland's Jamar Smith missed from inside the lane and Michigan State called a timeout with 16.5 seconds left. The play ended up going to Davis on the baseline. He went to his left toward the basket, leaned around his defender and popped his shot off the backboard and into the basket for the lead with 4.7 seconds left.

The Terps called time, then the Spartans called another before the game's final play started.

Blake had 11 points and five steals, but only three assists. He also had five turnovers. He ends his career with the fifth-most assists in NCAA history.

Maryland lost freshman starter Nik Caner-Medley to an ankle injury midway through the first half. After scoring 18 points over the first two tournament games, he went out before taking a shot.

No. 1 Terrapins!

Maryland has been ranked No. 2 a total of 37 times between the AP and Coaches Polls, but achieved its first and only No. 1 ranking in history on April 2, 2002 - one day after defeating Indiana for the 2002 NCAA Championship. The final AP poll was released prior to the NCAA Tournament, thus the No. 1 ranking by USA Today/ESPN remains the only poll in which Maryland has ever been ranked No. 1. The Terrapins' four losses in 2002 (Oklahoma, Duke, Arizona, NC State) were all on the road to teams ranked in the USA Today/ESPN final Top 25.

ALL-TIME Results

Game-by-game results for every Maryland basketball season since 1910-11. Maryland was known as Maryland Agricultural College until 1915, and as Maryland State College from 1916-1919. Maryland's conference affiliations: Atlantic Coast Conference since 1953-54; and the Southern Conference from 1923-24 to 1952-53.

An all-college basketball team was formed in 1904-05, and played just two games. Due to a fire in 1912 which burnt the armory and college gymnasium, the team that was fielded in 1913-14 did not have a regular home, practiced only three times all season and lost 16 games. Another team was not fielded until 1918-19.

In 1918-19, Maryland State participated in the District Intercollegiate Basketball League, in which all games were played at the Washington YMCA. Another season would not be conducted until Maryland opened its new facility at The Gymnasium, inside Annapolis Hall, in 1923-24. It is considered to be the school's first "varsity" team.

Home games were played at The Gymnasium from 1923-24 to 1930-31. Home games were played at Ritchie Coliseum from 1931-32 to 1954-55. Home games from 1955-56 through 2001-02 were played at Cole Field House. Beginning in 2002-03, Maryland moved to Comcast Center.

Maryland and opponent Associated Press rankings are in brackets - AP polls began in 1948-49. From 1960-61 to 1967-68, the Associated Press ranked only the nation's top 10 teams.

COLE Field House

Its official name is the "William P. Cole Jr. Student Activities Building."

That is the name that can be read on the structure that still sits between the tennis courts and the university's student union, on the main thoroughfare of the campus of the University of Maryland, College Park. It is no longer, however, the home of Maryland basketball, as it was for 47 years since December of 1955.

Everyone just called it "Cole." Like Kentucky, where the Wildcats play at "Rupp." Or in Westwood, where UCLA plays at "Pauley."

The building is Cole Field House, even though that description appears nowhere officially. The nation's only on-campus arena to play host to multiple Final Fours, it has hosted numerous NCAA tournaments for basketball, volleyball and wrestling. It also hosted a U.S. vs. China ping-pong match in 1972 before a capacity crowd in what was the first sporting event held between the two nations; it hosted U.S. Presidents and, in September 1974, it even hosted Elvis.

Besides the all-black starting five of Texas Western taking the floor against Kentucky in the national championship game of 1966, Cole Field House was also home to the first black basketball players in the ACC – Maryland's Billy Jones (1966-68) and Pete Johnson (1967-69).

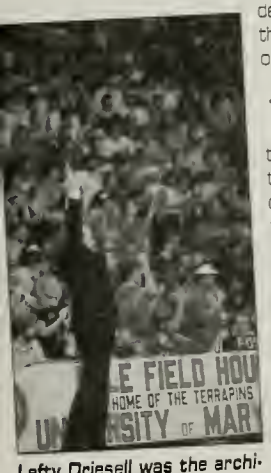
In 47 seasons, Terrapin teams were 486-151 at Cole Field House. A few of Cole's most memorable basketball moments:

1955
Cole Field House dedicated at a cost of $3.3 million. Maryland defeats Virginia, 67-55, on Dec. 2 in the first game in the new facility.

1958
Cole is home to the Atlantic Coast Conference champions and Maryland's first NCAA Tournament team.

1965
Bill Bradley scored 41 points in the NCAA East Region championship game as Princeton topped Providence, 109-69.

1966
Cole plays host to the NCAA Final Four. In the semi-finals, Kentucky defeats Duke and Texas Western (now Texas-El Paso) defeats Utah. Texas Western then defeats Kentucky in one of the most historic championship games in history.



Lefty Driesell was the architect of Maryland's great teams of the '70s and '80s.

1970
Cole plays host to the NCAA Final Four for the second time. UCLA defeats Jacksonville for the title as Sidney Wicks outduals Artis Gilmore. It was the fourth of UCLA's seven consecutive NCAA championships.

1971
Maryland defeats No. 2 South Carolina, 31-30, in one of the great "slow-down" games in the history of Cole. Leading only 4-3 at halftime, Maryland needed a lay-up from Jim O'Brien to tie the game with five seconds to go in regulation and an 11-foot jumper from O'Brien to win the game with four seconds remaining in OT.

1972
Cole is home to the National Invitation Tournament champions - the Maryland Terrapins.

The Cole Field House single-game attendance record of 15,287 was set as Maryland played host to North Carolina on Feb. 16. Maryland won 79-77 in an overtime thriller.

1975
Cole was the site of the first women's basketball game ever to be televised.

1979
On Super Bowl Sunday, Larry Gibson sank a free throw with one second on the clock to boost the Terps past top-ranked Notre Dame, 67-66, on Jan. 27, 1979. Gibson scored 11 points that day while Ernest Graham scored 28 and Buck Williams grabbed 15 rebounds.

1984
Cole is home to the ACC champion Terrapins.

1991
In the NCAA Eastern Regional first round, 15th-seeded Richmond defeats No. 2 seed Syracuse, 73-69, in one of the great upsets in NCAA Tournament history. It was only the second time in the history of the tournament that a No. 15 seed had defeated a No. 2 seed.

1992
On Jan. 15, 1992, No. 3 Maryland hosted No. 2 Virginia in a women's basketball shootout before a sellout crowd of 14,500. The game still stands as the ACC attendance mark for a women's game.

Maryland defeats No. 10 North Carolina, 82-80, on a last-second tip-in by All-American Walt Williams. Williams put the Terps up 81-80 with 1.3 seconds remaining to lead the Terps past the Tar Heels in Cole for only the second time since the 1982-83 season.

1994
Before a sellout crowd on March 5, Maryland defeats Virginia, 70-68, to clinch a fourth-place tie in the ACC standings and virtually assure its first NCAA Tournament bid under Gary Williams.

1995
Maryland defeats No. 1 North Carolina, 86-73, in front of a sellout crowd and a national television audience.

1998
Maryland defeats No. 1 North Carolina, 89-83 in overtime, as Laron Profit scores 19 points overall and six during an overtime period. It marks the second time in three years that the Terps beat No. 1 North Carolina in Cole.

1999
Maryland sets a school record with 28 wins on the season, and the Terps host a record 14,455 fans per game at Cole. Junior sensation Steve Francis is named an All-American and later chosen as the second pick in the NBA draft.

2001
Maryland defeats Virginia 102-67 in the final game of the regular season to mark the most lopsided win ever, in the longtime series against its ACC rival. One week later, the Terps advance to their eighth straight NCAA Tournament berth and bring back to College Park the first Final Four banner in school history.

2002
Maryland defeats top-ranked Duke before a national television audience, 87-73, to take over first place in the ACC and mark the seventh time in Cole history that a No. 1 ranked team has been defeated.

Maryland beats Virginia 112-92 to win its first ACC regular season title since 1980, in what is the final game at Cole. A standing-room only crowd witnesses an emotional postgame event with returning All-Americans commemorating Cole's final game, followed by a net-cutting ceremony to celebrate the Terps' league title.

The NCAA Champion Terrapins return to Cole before a crowd of over 12,000 adoring fans, just hours after winning the first national championship in school history.

Cole Was A House Of Horrors For No. 1 Teams

Cole Field House bears distinction as having hosted more upsets of No. 1-ranked teams than any building in the country.

When the No. 3-ranked Terrapins dispatched top-rated Duke on Feb. 27, 2002, it was Cole Field House's seventh game in which a No. 1 ranked team has fallen.

Including NCAA Tournament games, Notre Dame's Joyce Athletics & Convocation Center has hosted six No. 1 upsets and Oklahoma's Lloyd Noble Center has been the site of five.

At Cole, Maryland has beaten the nation's top team in six of those seven games. Also at Cole, No. 3-ranked Texas Western topped No. 1 Kentucky during the 1966 Final Four.

TERPS IN THE NBA Draft

Maryland's rising success under Gary Williams over the past 14 years has resulted in a growing number of Terrapin stars in the NBA ranks, and professionally overseas.

In the NBA specifically, the annual draft has become a barometer of Terrapin success, as Maryland has landed 15 players overall in the draft since Williams' return to College Park (more than one per season) and eight draft picks since 1999 alone.

Last June, four-year point guard Steve Blake became the eighth Terp drafted in the last five years with his selection in the second round by the Washington Wizards. In 2002, the Terps landed a pair of first round picks and three selections overall, as Chris Wilcox (8th, Los Angeles Clippers), Juan Dixon (17th, Washington Wizards) and Lonny Baxter (44th, Chicago Bulls) all were chosen from draft proceedings at Madison Square Garden. Wilcox, chosen eighth overall, was Maryland's first lottery pick since Steve Francis three years earlier. When Dixon was made the 17th pick of the draft, Maryland had placed two players in the first round for the first time since 1981.

Buoyed by three first and second round draft picks during the 1999 NBA draft, Maryland and Gary Williams have asserted themselves in recent years among the most prominent schools in developing NBA talent.

In '99, Steve Francis was chosen as the second pick of the first round, followed by second-round selections Obinna Ekezie and Laron Profit. One year later, Terence Morris was taken in the second round of the draft.

The Terps' NBA draft tally since 1999: eight draft picks, three first-round choices and two lottery selections.

What's more, Francis, the No. 2 pick in that '99 draft, went on to become the NBA's Co-Rookie of the Year. By the 2002 season, Francis was voted to the NBA All-Star Game.

Chosen on draft day by the Vancouver Grizzlies, Francis was traded in the preseason to the Houston Rockets for whom he led all NBA rookies with 6.6 steals in 1999-00, and was the second-leading rookie scorer with 18 points per game.

Had Francis been the No. 1 overall selection, Maryland would have become the first school in NBA history to have three No. 1 selections. Previously, John Lucas was the top pick by the Houston Rockets in 1976 and Joe Smith was picked first by the Golden State Warriors in 1995.

The Terps' 2002 draft windfall brought the number of all-time Maryland lottery selections to five —a number that is tied for seventh among all NCAA schools. Wilcox's selection brought the number of lottery selections at Maryland under head coach Gary Williams to four. Overall, seven Maryland players and nine overall since 1987 have played for Gary Williams and become first-round draft picks with guaranteed contracts.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

UNIVERSITY of Maryland

The Campus

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 67 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News & World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

Did You Know?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 67 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the only undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report – business and engineering – both the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 18) and A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 24) were ranked among the top 25. The university also ranked in the top 25 for its learning communities (3rd), first-year experience (12th) and service learning programs (24th).

An economic impact study conducted by the economists with the Jacob France Center, an applied economics analysis center at the University of Baltimore, concluded that the University of Maryland generates $5.93 of economic activity for every dollar appropriated by the General Assembly, for a total statewide effect of nearly $1.8 billion.

Nobel Laureate William Phillips joined the university's physics faculty and is establishing a world-class atomic, molecular and optical physics group on campus. The Philip Merrill College of Journalism now has five Pulitzer Prize winners on its faculty. A sixth faculty member, Eugene Roberts, directed the Philadelphia Inquirer to multiple Pulitzers as managing editor.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university last year opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

More, Better Students Go To Maryland

There is no place better to be than the University of Maryland. As university President C.D. Mote Jr. noted in a recent Baltimore Sun front-page story, "This place is clearly on a tear."

With top-ranked academic programs (67 in the top 25, according to U.S. News & World Report), an honors program that competes with the Ivy League for top students, a prize-winning faculty (topped by a Nobel and six Pulitzers, among others), a highly diverse population, and a beautiful 1,580-acre campus located between the cultural and population centers of Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's little wonder that more of Maryland's top high school graduates choose the University of Maryland over all other Maryland colleges, public and private, combined.

In the latest U.S. News & World Report rankings, Maryland was 18th nationally among all public universities. The colleges of engineering, education, computer, mathematical and physical sciences, and information sciences are all ranked in the top 25 nationally. So are many of the individual programs in those schools and others, including criminology, journalism, public relations, counseling and others. The Robert H. Smith School of Business has been ranked among the top business schools in the world by the Wall Street Journal and The Financial Times of London.

More than 40 percent of all entering freshmen at Maryland are now enrolled in high-achieving programs like the Honors Program, Honors Humanities, College Park Scholars, Gemstone and a growing roster of living-learning communities where students with common interests in such topics as civil society and entrepreneurship can live and study together. With their wide variety of subject areas and top faculty from throughout the university, these programs compete for students with the best public and private universities in the country.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small-town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

Dr. C.D Mote Jr.

University President

- California '51
- Sixth Year at Maryland

When C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998, he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Five years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever-accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community and in the world.

Leading a great university is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, chaired one of the nation's top-ranked departments of Mechanical Engineering, and eventually became Vice Chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

The University of Maryland is the State of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, providing the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress can be seen in every area, from its nationally-ranked programs to its growing range of partnerships to its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

Quality Programs

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs has grown by leaps and bounds. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 18th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, the first time it has broken into the top 20 in its steady climb to distinction. We currently have 49 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 eight years ago.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20, and the Robert H. Smith School of Business is one of 6 nationally ranked in both the top 10 Business Faculty in Teaching and the top 10 Business Faculty in Research.

Faculty Stature

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. This past year a faculty member was the recipient of the Japan Prize, an award given by the Japanese government in technology that is equivalent to the Nobel prizes. More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including political events, international affairs, social trends, economics, the environment, science and technology.

Talented Students

Over the past 10 years, it has become a cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students in fall 2003 is 3.9, while the average SAT score is nearly 1,300.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. Our extremely popular living-learning programs, which bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting, were ranked 3rd in the country in the latest U.S. News & World Report. In the last academic year, over 6,000 students enrolled in such programs as Gemstone, College Park Scholars, and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program.

Business Partnerships

The university's reputation for excellence and entrepreneurship attracts new partners to the state. A key drawing card to bring major players into the state will be the University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, "M Square," a 130-acre research park located near the College Park Metro. Tenants include federal agency centers and private firms.

A future tenant with extraordinary promise for economic enrichment is China, which is moving rapidly to become engaged in the global economy and seeking links to Western industry. The Ministry of Science and Technology of the People's Republic of China has established its first overseas research park in Maryland in partnership with the University. The Ministry sees this partnership as an opportunity to introduce China's emerging entrepreneurs to Western business practices and establish contacts with state's businesses and to serve as a base for China's technology entrée to the U.S.

Under Mote's leadership the university also helped to attract Fujitsu Laboratories of America to open a research facility in College Park. Fujitsu, the third-largest communications company in the world, shares a building with the Joint Global Change Research Institute, a research partnership between the university and the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory.

In order to fulfill its role as the state's most important asset, Mote has emphasized that the university must be engaged with the business and government communities in substantial and meaningful ways. In recent years, Maryland has assisted hundreds of Maryland businesses through its Technology Extension Program and Maryland Industrial Partnerships program, and incubated some of the most successful state biotech firms, including Martek and Digene, in its Technology Advancement Program.

Athletic Excellence

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

DEBORAH A. Yow

Athletics Director

◆ 10th Year at Maryland

Deborah A. Yow is in the tenth year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a year that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's nine years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships as Maryland athletics has soared to new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics three years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was recently singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations, as well as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television for the 2003-04 academic year. The committee, comprised of the ACC's athletics directors, is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Additionally, in May, she was chosen as one of three recipients of the 2003 Women of the Year award by Women in Sports and Events.

Yow, who recently served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America. Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

• Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsible, goal-oriented organization.

• Balanced all nine of the annual department's budgets (the first balanced budget in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $42 million annually and the sizable prior accumulated operating debts have been eradicated.

• Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent.

• Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.

• Significantly expanded marketing and fundraising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 240 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 275 percent during her tenure at Maryland.

• Implemented a strategic management model.

• Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fundraising applications.

• Significantly improved customer care in every area.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

Yow with Maryland athletics superstars Boomer Esiason, Bonnie Bernstein and Steve Francis.

• In football, won the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl and followed this with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl in December. In men's basketball, the Terps advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament following its second consecutive Final Four and the National Championship in 2002. The Terps are among only a few NCAA institutions to have achieved this level in both these revenue sports in the same year.

Additionally, Maryland is one of only five universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Ohio State and Maryland).

• Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach.

• Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S.

• Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001.

• Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001.

• Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center

• The athletics budget was balanced for the ninth consecutive year.

• In 2002-03, 10 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.

• The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past nine years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to"raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being a highly organized, strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former coach at the University of Kentucky and the University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Reflecting on the status of the Terrapin men's basketball program, Maryland's Director of Athletics points out, "Our Terrapin men's basketball program has distinguished itself as a premier college sports program in the nation, with 10 consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament, two Final Four appearances and a National Championship.

"Coach Gary Williams and his staff have developed one of America's most competitive collegiate basketball teams. Along with this elevated competitive achievement, the basketball staff and administration are working to implement strategies which will appropriately raise the graduate rates for Maryland men's basketball. It is our goal to have graduation rates that are commensurate with our outstanding level of competitive achievements."

Summing up the entire athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University – Academics, the Arts and Athletics.' We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

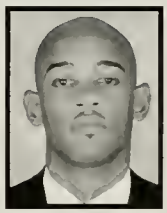
ACADEMIC SUPPORT & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.



Led by acting associate athletics director Val Sheley, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Hajj Turner (right) works with the men's basketball team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career Networking Night

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. SPORTS Medicine

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's Sports Medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's Director of Athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools."

In addition to his duties at Maryland, he is also the head team physician for the Baltimore Bayhawks professional lacrosse team and an orthopaedic consultant for the Baltimore Ravens and Coppin State University. SANDY Worth

Head Athletic Trainer

- 30th Year at Maryland
- Maryland '73

Sandy Worth, who has been affiliated with Maryland's athletic program since 1973, coordinates and directs the medical care for the Terps' football program in addition to her responsibilities as the university's head athletic trainer.

A native of Timonium, Md., Worth supervises and schedules a professional staff of six full-time assistants and approximately 25 student trainers who combine to provide medical assistance to the university's more than 600 student-athletes. Worth, a 1973 graduate of Maryland, joined the Terps' staff that same year as an associate trainer. She was promoted to head trainer in 1992.

During her career at Maryland, Worth has worked directly with five teams that have captured national championships – four in women's lacrosse and one in field hockey. In addition, she was the trainer for the women's basketball program when it won eight ACC titles and advanced to three NCAA Final Fours.

STRENGTH & Conditioning

In the highly competitive world of collegiate basketball, the off-court preparation of the basketball athlete is a critical component in the on-court success of any Division I program. Craig Fitzgerald, Maryland's strength and conditioning coach for men's basketball, believes strongly that a solid off-court training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development and, in turn, has resulted in great success on the basketball court.

Craig Fitzgerald

Fitzgerald's philosophy consists of allowing the players to gain strength, speed and change of direction capabilities through drills that are basketball oriented. He believes that the team must be prepared to run and play the up-tempo style of basketball that is Gary Williams' trademark. Fitzgerald trains the team so that it will be able to play up to Williams' style.

The Terps' new state-of-the-art weight room at Comcast Center.

The members of the men's basketball team have the use of a fully-equipped weight training facility located down the hall from the men's basketball office and the team's locker room in Comcast Center. The conveniently located 4,000 sq. foot facility features a combination of Sorinex weight training equipment and York free weight equipment. The strength staff utilizes this facility specifically during the season as basketball team members are personally trained before, during and after the season.

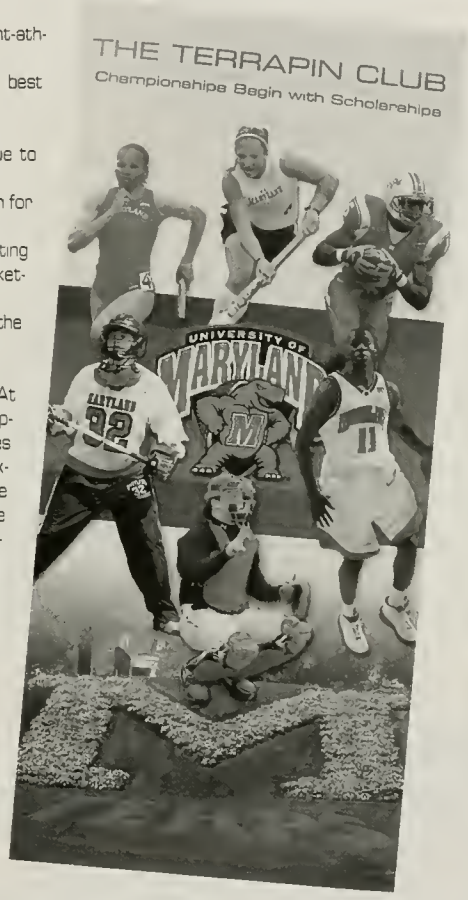
TERRAPIN Club

Championships Begin With Scholarships

Athletic excellence is a tradition at the University of Maryland – a tradition alumni and friends alike want to see continue and flourish. That's why we are inviting you to be a member of the Maryland Athletics Family by joining the Terrapin Club. Whether you are an alumnus of the University of Maryland or a friend interesting in supporting the state's flagship campus, belonging to the Terrapin Club enables you to:

- Provide annual scholarship support for our student-athletes who will contribute to the community
- Share our vision to fully scholarship all sports to best represent the University
- Take pride in the achievement of athletic excellence
- Participate in the camaraderie and fellowship unique to Terrapin Club members
- Receive a tax deduction for your financial contribution for scholarships
- Enjoy access to great benefits including priority seating in Byrd Stadium for football and Comcast Center for basketball, priority parking and tickets to other events
- Access your own personal member page within the Terrapin Club web site, to review your account

Your donation is a vital part of our strategic plan. At Maryland, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant University funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. Sanctioned by the University of Maryland College Park Foundation, 100% of the funds raised through the Terrapin Club are managed by the Foundation for the exclusive use of Maryland Athletics. Your contribution directly supports an annual student-athlete scholarship cost of approximately $6.5 million and Terrapin Club and department expenses. The Terrapin Club provides scholarship support to many of the 600 student-athletes who compete on 25 varsity team representing the University of Maryland.



Getting Involved

Direct Gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, American Express or Discover). For your convenience, a personal checking account can be debited a set amount every month.

In many cases, corporate matching gifts may be used to make your Terrapin Club contribution. Please contact your employer to see if you are eligible for a matching gift program.

MAJOR GIFTS Fundraising

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to providing its student athletes the resources they need to excel athletically and academically. It also strives to provide fans an exciting game-day environment in which to enjoy the exhilaration of collegiate athletics. The Athletics Major Gifts staff works with Terrapin Club members, alumni and fans to raise funds for facility construction or renovation projects and endowments for scholarships and programs.

One of the current projects, the Gossett Football Team House Campaign, is an effort to provide funding so that Coach Friedgen and his staff and team will have the tools necessary for Maryland Football to be a perennial contender for conference and national championships. The funds raised through this vital campaign will help to make significant improvements to our football facilties and fields. Over 20,000 square feet will be added to the existing team house through this expansion project, with the addition of: (1) an academic support area for football student athletes that has fully-wired computer work stations, group study areas and private space for tutoring and counseling - completed Fall 2002; (2) a multi-purpose room with full kitchen that will serve as the team training table for one meal a day, and will provide much-needed space for hosting recruits, their families and high school coaches; and (3) a team meeting auditorium that will be fully technologically capable, and will have sufficient space for the team to meet together as a group as they prepare for competitions, and an expanded entrance and lobby, to include a football Hall of Fame area.

The renovated team house will make a positive and strong impression to prospective players, our team, alumni and visitors, and will ensure that the Terps have the best possible facilities. Maryland must have improved, enhanced football facilities in order to be able to continue to attract the caliber of students who make Maryland Football exhilarating, competitive and a source of pride for University of Maryland students, alumni, faculty, staff and fans.

You can have your name permanently associated with the excitement of Maryland Football by making a gift to the Gossett Football Team House Campaign. Naming opportunities exist for gifts beginning at $1,500 for chairs in the new auditorium, $5,000 for player lockers in the team locker room, and beginning at $25,000 for other rooms and areas in the team house. Gifts to the Gossett Football Team House Campaign are managed by the University of Maryland College Park Foundation.

To obtain information on the Gossett Football Team House Campaign, contact the Terrapin Club Major Gifts Office at (301) 314-7020, or toll free at (800) 653-7667 or visit our website at www.terrapinclub.com.

THE M Club

An 80-Year Tradition of "Athletes Helping Athletes"SM

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,200 former Maryland varsity athletes and a leader in the National Letter Winners Association.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for all the varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate networking, social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund, support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts and provide for career development initiatives. Members receive information about the current teams and news about former teammates through a monthly electronic newsletter and a quarterly printed newsletter.

In addition, active members receive information about, and discounts for, various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372 or Dotti Warren at (301) 314-7020, or visit our website at www.themclub.org.

Remember the M Club, "Athletes Helping Athletes."

JOHNNY Holliday

Play-By-Play Broadcaster

◆ 25th Year at Maryland

Broadcasting Hall of Famer Johnny Holliday, now in his 25th year as "Voice of the Terps," is considered one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the country. In addition to calling the action for the Maryland basketball and football teams, Holliday hosts the Gary Williams and Ralph Friedgen television shows. As the Terps' director of broadcasting, he also handles a myriad of speaking duties within the athletics department, ranging from banquets to golf outings.

His long list of credits includes ABC's coverage of the 2000 and 1996 Summer Olympics and the Winter and Summer Olympics in 1984, 1988 and 1994. In addition, he has covered championship boxing, the Masters, and the Liberty and Aloha bowls.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lay claim as Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationally. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's No. 1 disc jockey during his rock 'n roll deejay days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, and Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coaches' television shows on Comcast SportsNet, the region's premier sports channel. Holliday is among the pioneer broadcasters for the sport of women's basketball, earning a Distinguished Service Award from ACC women's basketball officials for his work on that league's women's basketball telecasts. Additionally, Holliday was named one of the top 16 radio announcers for college basketball by ESPN's Dick Vitale, and was inducted into the Radio Broadcasters Hall of Fame in Akron, Ohio, in the fall of 2003.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in four of the nation's prime radio markets: Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Washington. At one time, he was recognized as America's No. 1 disc jockey. In addition to his broadcasting accomplishments, he also has been extremely successful raising money for charity. Washingtonian magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Oneders, have raised more than $1 million for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as television host for the Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, March of Dimes and Leukemia telethons. In October 2003, he was inducted into the Radio-Television Broadcasters Hall of Fame.

In 1998, he was honored by the Greater Washington, D.C. Chapter of Operation Smile with its 1998 Smile Award for his outstanding service to the community. In 1995, he was the recipient of the University of Maryland M Club Distinguished Citizen Award. He earned the Touchdown Club Award for outstanding achievement in sports broadcasting in 1991, and was the recipient of the Maryland basketball service award in 1999. He is an honorary member of the university's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa and the university's Alumni Association.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Claire, are the proud parents of three daughters: Kellie, a physician who resides in Bel Air, Md., with her husband Steve, who also is a physician; Tracie, a neo-natal nurse at Shady Grove Hospital who resides in Potomac, Md., with her husband Chris, an attorney; and Moira, who recently graduated from St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia and works for Discovery International Television.

CHRIS Knoche

Color Analyst

◆ Fifth Year at Maryland

Chris Knoche, a former player and head coach at American University who has worked in radio and television for the past five years, is in his fifth season as the color analyst for the Terp men's basketball radio broadcasts.

Knoche spent 17 seasons at American, playing the 1979-80 and '80-81 seasons under current Terp coach Gary Williams before moving into an assistant coaching position and later serving seven seasons (1991-97) as the Eagles' head coach.

Prior to joining Maryland's broadcast crew, he worked 40-50 games each of the previous two seasons as a color commentator, including stints on the Ivy League Game of the Week on Westwood One/CBS Radio and Ivy League Game of the Week for DirecTV and for HDTV. He has also worked telecasts for ESPN and CSN, in addition to doing radio and television analysis for George Mason University games. Currently he makes regular guest appearances on the highly rated "The Sports Reporters" on Sportstalk 980 in Washington, D.C.

"Chris Knoche brings an outstanding background as a player, coach and fan to our basketball broadcasts," said Williams, the Terps' 15th-year head coach. "Being able to work with Johnny Holliday, Chris provides the opportunity for Maryland fans to listen to someone who has very good experience as a color commentator. More important, he is someone who has a great feel for the game of basketball. I have known Chris as a player and a coach for more than 20 years. He has been an exciting addition to our basketball program."

Welcome To Maryland

Welcome to College Park and the home of the 2002 National Champion Maryland Terrapins.

Maryland basketball has become one of the finest programs in the country and Comcast Center is one of the nation's finest places to watch college basketball. The Maryland basketball program and the University of Maryland thank you for making this stop along your "Road to the Final Four."

The media relations staff is available to serve you, and has prepared this media guide as a source of information for the 2002-03 season. Welcome again to Maryland.

Before Your Visit

Requests for media and photo credentials should be faxed or mailed on official letterhead to the University of Maryland Media Relations Office (FAX: 301-314-9094) at least one week prior to the event. Accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Requests are accepted from sports editors and sports editors only.

No credentials will be granted for Internet-only outlets unless they are affiliated with a regional or national news-gathering organization.

Working space in the press area of Comcast Center is limited and seats are expressly reserved for those working on deadline, with no exceptions. Children and other non-workers are not allowed in the press area.

Credential requests are carefully scrutinized to insure proper working conditions in the press area. When time permits, a working press pass and parking pass will be mailed. When this is not possible, credentials will be left at the media will call window at the southeast ground floor entrance at Comcast Center, directly beneath the main ticket entrance on the south side of the arena.

Game Day Press Parking

Parking is located to the north of Comcast Center – in lots 4J, P1 and P2. Media parking is best accessed from the University Drive (Rt. 193) entrance to campus at Paint Branch Drive. Access to the media parking area is parking pass only, and is available on a limited basis.

For lots P1 and P2, after entering campus on Paint Branch Drive, take the first right at Terrapin Trail, and proceed approximately 100 yards to the media parking area on the right.

Photography And Camera Guidelines

All photographers and camera operators must remain seated in baseline photo areas, as per NCAA regulations. Locations will be assigned for more crowded games. Photographer and videographer positions are at the complete and absolute discretion of the basketball game officials and the Maryland media relations office at all times, without exception.

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in photography areas. Priority shall be given, in all instances, to photographers and videographers on assignment.

Only game photographers (no runners, assistants or producers) shall have access to courtside photo areas.

Strobe lights may be installed in Comcast Center, but arrangements must be made through the media relations office two weeks in advance. Space for strobe lights is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Press Seating and Media Work Room

The courtside press area and work room both are at the northeast corner of the arena. Both are available for working media only.

Working space in the press area of Comcast Center is limited and seats are expressly reserved for those working on deadline, with no exceptions. Children and other non-workers are not allowed in the press area.

Located on the court level of Comcast Center, the work room is directly across from the men's basketball locker room and directly behind the courtside press area. They are connected by the tunnel area adjacent to the loading dock and service entrance on the arena's northeast corner.

A limited number of long distance phone lines are available in the work room on a first-come, first-served basis, and require a credit card for billing. Dedicated phone lines in the courtside press area are available by placing an advance order with Aaron Haviland, Asst. Director of Operations and Facilities, at 301-314-7128.

The work room opens well before game time and media representatives are welcome upon arrival at the arena. A pregame food service is served buffet style. A halftime and postgame beverage service is also available. The pregame buffet is available one hour before tipoff.

Telephones

Six complimentary phone lines are available in the Comcast Center press work room, as dictated by ACC policy (calling card or reverse charges required). Additional requests for dedicated lines, either for the work room or courtside, should be directed to Aaron Havilan, Asst. Director of Operations and Facilities, at 301-314-7128. List Mark Fratto as the contact for all installations.

Fax Machine Service

A fax machine is operated during, and after, all games. Media agencies desiring a box score or play-by-play faxed to their office may request this service with a member of the media relations staff.

Postgame Press Conference

Postgame press conferences for both head coaches will be conducted at the conclusion of each game.

The Maryland locker room is open to credentialed media for a brief period after Coach Williams concludes his comments to the media. The visiting team's locker room access policy is determined by officials of that school.

Postgame Statistics

A statistics packet including running play-by-play, first half and final boxscores, and postgame notes and home and visitor head coach quotes, are compiled for each game and made available to the media at press row and in the media work room.
